Summer Fun 1987

ABOVE: Laura Frank made lasting friends at Northwestern University. BELOW: Erina Duganne and Cory Russell spent time in France working on their accents and learning about the culture.

End Of Summer Means A Trip Home

Summer '87 started off pretty slowly. S.A. had two weeks of "wet" rain but that did not slow Heighsters down. We still had our summer jobs and our summer sleeping to look forward to. Some of us even had our summer vacations to dream about. We went to France, China, California, Boston, and, of course, Port A. We even went away for summer school to Harvard, Boston College, Northwestern, and Andover, but some of us stayed home to go to good old T.M.I.

We made many friends and created many memories. Summer '87 will definitely stay with us forever.

BELOW: Dress-Up Day was fun even for the teachers; Mr. Duffy is a Blues Brother.

ABOVE: Overview of Howdy Night crowd shows the chaotic fun and excitement. BELOW: Catherine Shweers and Jenny Schneider dress up for Hippy Day.

H.N. Raises Money; Promotes Spirit

Howdy Night not only raised money for clubs but it also promoted school spirit.

Heightsters always come through when it comes to school spirit! We put on a good show when Howdy Week presented "Dress Up Days". We had fun with Hippie Day, Blues Brothers' Day, 50's Day, and Blue and Gold Day. We all were amazed how much spirit the students and faculty had during this week.

We celebrated our way through the Howdy Night Parade and cheered our lungs out at the pep rally but, most of all, we "pigged out" with the Howdy Night food.

We saw some of the same booths like the Wranglers and Spurs' Cake Walk, the Dunkin' Booth, Jr. Class Pizza, Sinfonetta's Fajita Booth, A.F.S. Cotton Candy and, of course, Waterpolo's Tropical Drinks.

We also had the advantage of trying out new booths like the French Club's successful music dedications, Keywanette's T.C.B.Y., and Sr. Class' Shishkabob.

Heightsters showed their spirit and their appetites successfully at Howdy Night.

Should I Go Stag?

ABOVE: Trent Harkrader is astounded by Cathryn Farrimond's suggestions for their weekend plans. LEFT: Johnston Kleck and Tifini Roberts use their passing period for serious talk.

HOW TO FLIRT:
He gets her attention-

He "sweet talks" her-

He finally gets her!

RIGHT: Trey Mumford and Becky Ruhman obviously believe lunch is the best time for "togetherness". BELOW: Joanna Satterfield and Matt Simpson use lunch to get to know each other.

Or Take A Date?

This year Heights students have fallen into the same relationship rituals as years before. The vocabulary has changed back from "going out" to "dating". The patterns are all too obvious. Sophomore girls are being courted by Senior guys, Senior couples are springing up everywhere while the Freshmen remain single and the Juniors fall everywhere in between.

It almost became a crime to be dareless. Some people believe in playing the field while others want to have nothing to do with the opposite sex until they have completed their high school career. Both of these might be hard to believe with all the flirting and Cupid's arrows being fired.

In a poll recently taken, students said lunch was the best time to get to know each other, followed by the classroom and through mutual friends. Long distance relationships have also affected a few students. One student said, "It's hard but if it is real love our relationship will go on forever!" Another student believes long distance affairs are impossible saying, "The guy cheated on me left and right, he stopped calling because of 'phone bills'."

You can make up your mind on this one.

All in all, love fills the air and breaks some hearts. Your grades may have slipped because of it, you may have even experienced temporary insanity, but it's well worth it!!

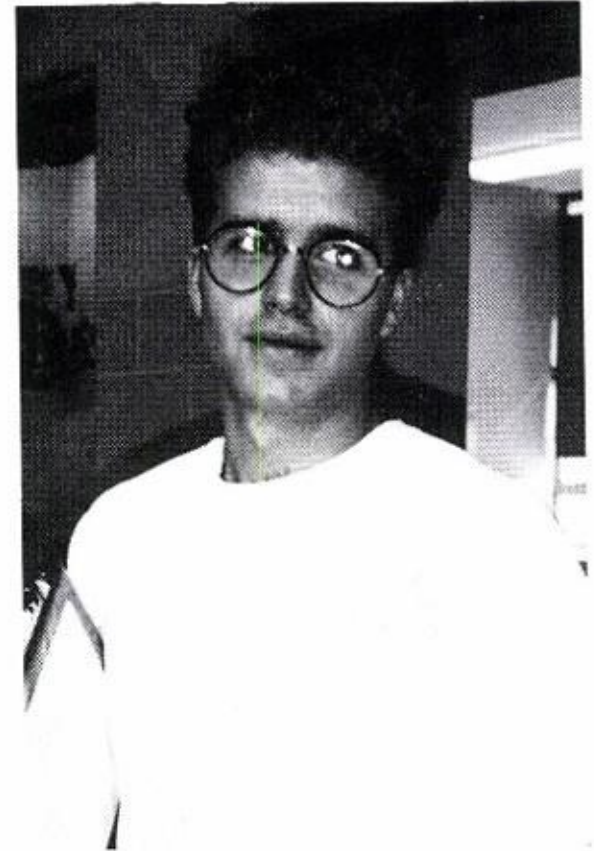

What Do We Wear?

*ABOVE: Curly hair has put girls into a frenzy.
ALSO ABOVE: McClellan and Martita Huntress display glasses as fashion statements.*

Heights Has No Style!

This year at Heights individualism and varied tastes were brought out by the clothes we were wearing.

There was no one "right" way to dress. Some people stuck with the traditional preppy look while others sported the more updated "Vogue" looks. Layers have been left behind and more simple two-piece outfits have become more evident.

For guys, faded blues and pastel oxfords were the uniform.

For girls, minis and high collared shirts and sweaters were a favorite.

Accessories were also a biggie. Girls wore more jewelry, belts, hair bows, patterned hose, and carried purses than ever before.

For guys as well as girls, bothersome contacts took their place. Horn-rimmed and bright colors were the most popular frames.

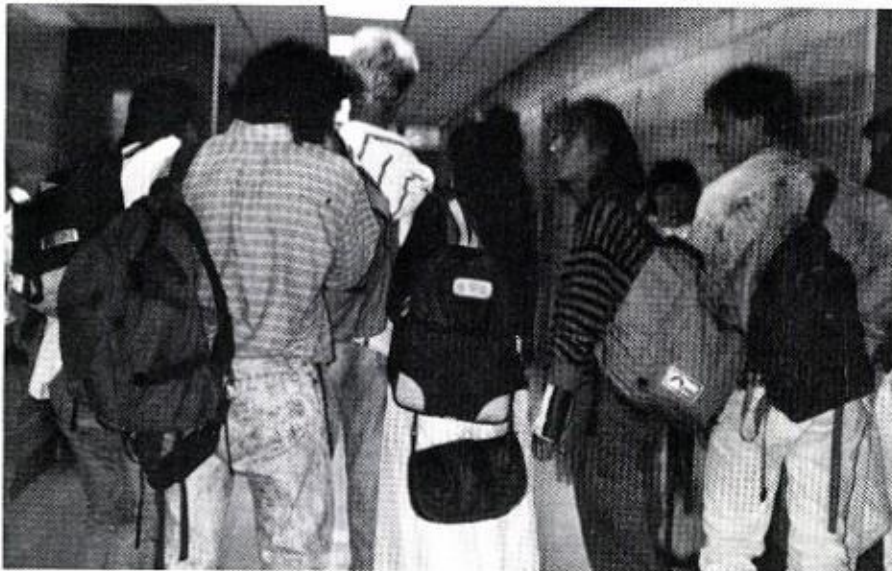

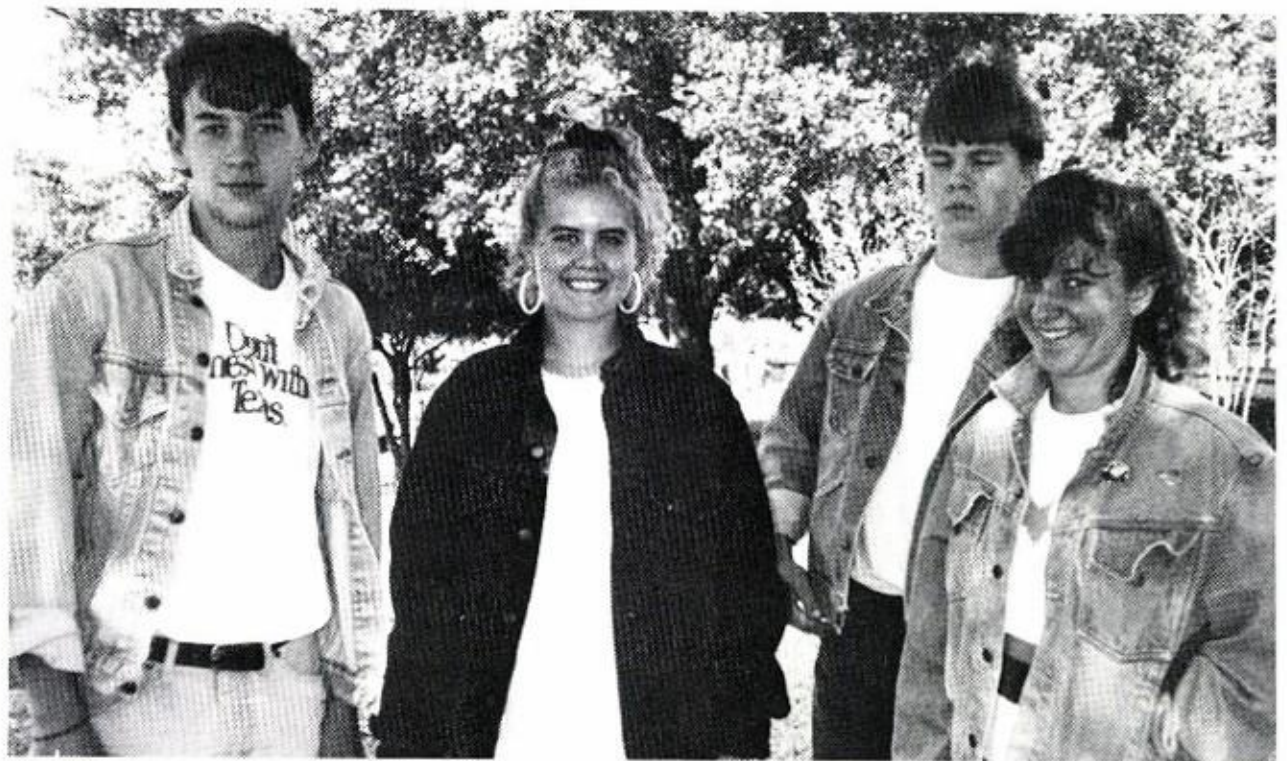

Through their specs, these students could still tell that: "FADS COME AND FADS PASS BUT ALAMO HEIGHTS STILL HAS CLASS".

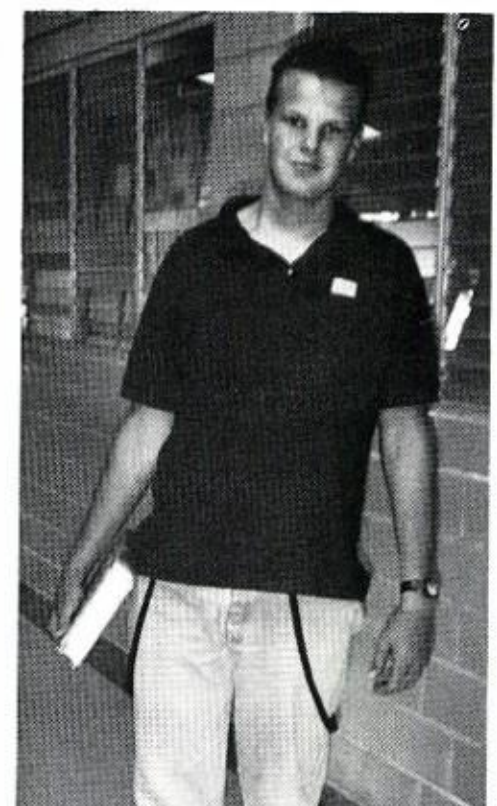

LEFT: Does anyone like to show off his ankles anymore? Just a bunch of SHOES!! Whether it be high top tennies or plain old hunting boots, everybody's got a pair.

ABOVE: Trey Azar puts some school spirit into his fashion statement. RIGHT: Jean-wear was back and strong as ever.

Lunch Is The Most Important Period

First Thru Fourth Is A Blur

To Heightsters, first period through fourth period is nothing but wasted hours that keep everybody from their "Lunch Plans." Teachers always shriek when they hear those disturbing words, "What are you doing for lunch?"

The Freshmen are still stuck at the Pit while the Upperclassmen are still regulars at Wendy's, Taco Cabana, and Chris Madrid's.

Lunch is definitely the most popular thing in an A.H. student's life. It is a time to socialize, get caught up on gossip, and do unfinished homework.

On the whole, 12:35-1:35 is an emotional outlet from the rigorous and dismal atmosphere created by the sickening green tile and baby blue halls in which we walk.

Our lunch period has altered our systems forever. 12:35 will always seem like a turning point in our lives.

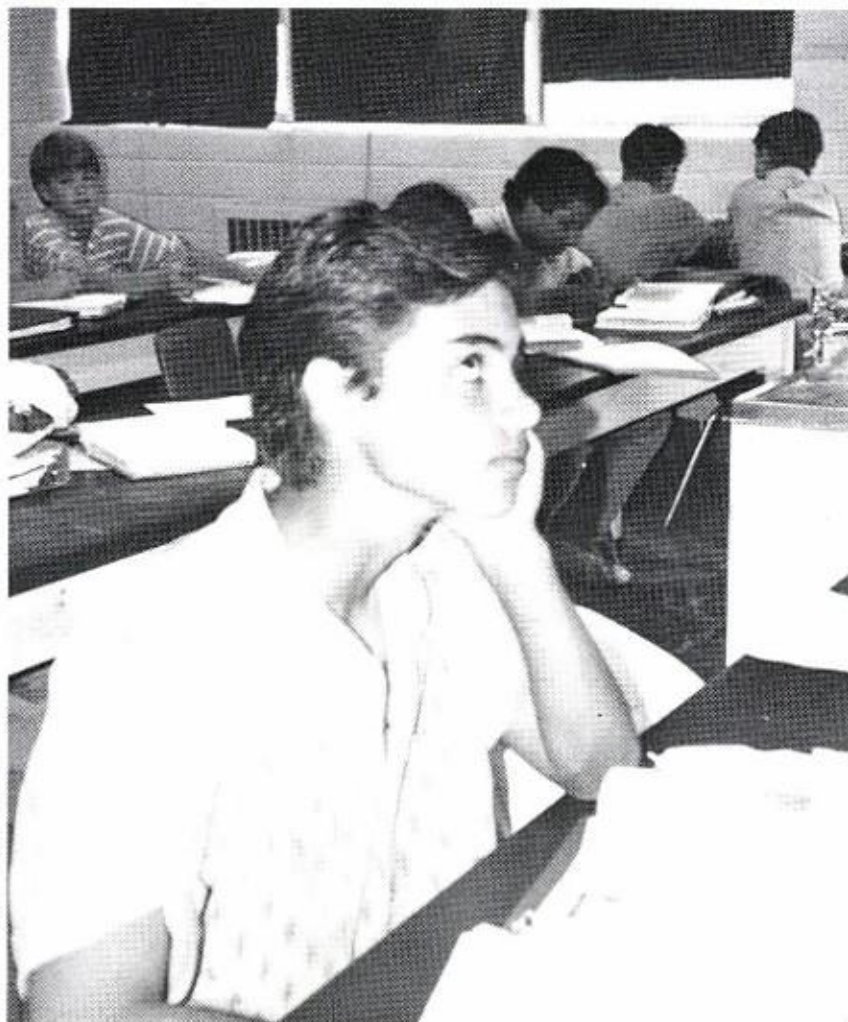

ABOVE: Freshman still enjoy lunch by the Pit. RIGHT: Beth Bailey waits in a drive-thru window line because she has to get back for another one of "those DARN meetings!"

Who Makes The Bucks?

Below: Trey Mumford strategically places the tenth basket of tortilla chips on the tray designated for the Harts' table.

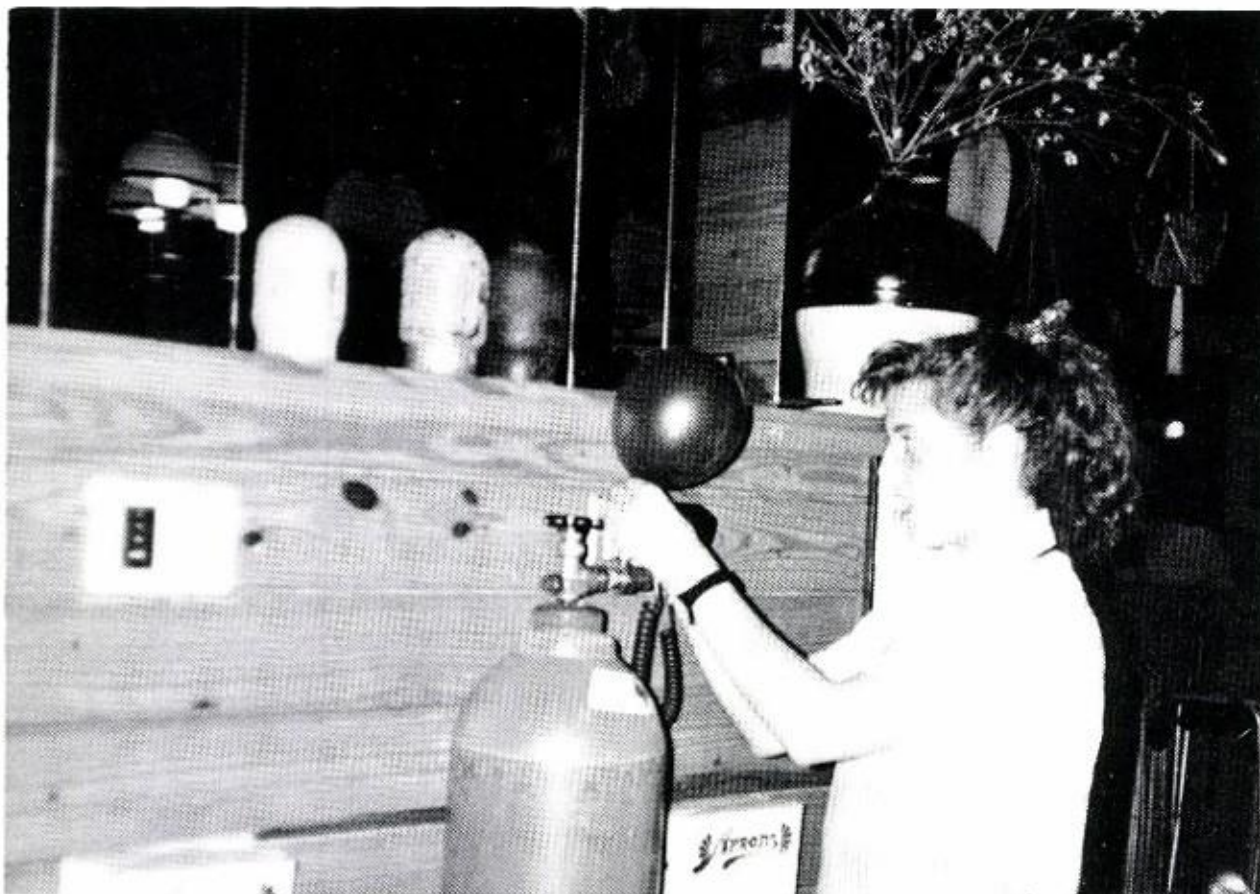

The Bouncing Bills

With the economy bust and the bouncing stock market, most students found themselves a little short of change. For the Freshmen and Sophomores, getting jobs was rough. In most places of business, 16 is the minimum age. Despite our age most of us worked for minimum wage, and minimum wage is extremely minimum. Those of us who could get jobs, did so. We worked anywhere from department stores to restaurants to archeological digs. We spent our time being slave-driven for a measly three bucks and thirty five cents. Regardless of wages we earned and the hours we worked, we learned what it meant to be part of the working force, and usually spending more than we earned. IN GOD WE TRUST. E PLURIBUS UNUM.

TURN & FACE the STRANGE

1987-1988 marked many changes to the Alamo Heights community as well as San Antonio. Lincoln Heights was constructed even though the residential area had not been completed. Sunser Ridge decided a face lift was needed and got a whole new remodeling job. We saw Town and Country and Hy Marcus leave after serving our community for over a decade. We found consolation by trying to get in shape at the new health clubs. We thoroughly enjoyed the new arrival of Sea World of Texas which opened in April on the outskirts of San Antonio.

Changes in our city were not the only things that became different. Individually all of us Heightsters experienced some sort of change, physically, emotionally, and/or psychologically.

Above: Lincoln Heights, when completed, will be a new residential area adding to the Alamo Heights community.

Above: New health clubs became a fad to most Heightsters, especially the Concord.

Above: Sunser Ridge hoped to get more business by remodeling and enlarging the shopping center. Right: We said goodbye to Town and Country and Hy Marcus this year.

CH . . . CH . . . CH . . . CHANGES

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT!!

Heightsters once again displayed their enthusiasm for the Mules at our Muledome pep rallies. Somehow, somehow our good ole administration arranged two pep rallies for us this year. We participated in one during football season and one in basketball season. The ever famous skits were a prominent barrel of laughs, along with some new additions such as relay races and the Spirit Meter. The cheerleaders kept us entertained with their chants and smiles while the Spurs danced right into our hearts. Along with the music of the band and the fight for the Spirit Stick

(won by the Seniors) came the honored players. Of course, we all know the real meat of the rally was "us", as a whole, the student body. Thanks, kids, for supporting and participating in A.H.S. sports!!!!

Left: Catherine Browning got an aerobic workout by being the official Spirit Meter. Her job was to run up and down the scale to show Spirit and No Spirit.

Right: Ron Weiss, Chris Moore, Albert McNeel, Cuarro Groos, and Brady Hardy demonstrate their abilities to be real men in drag. Hey, Ron! Your slip is showing!

Above: Jennifer Srephens and Tenny Cibildak really test their stomachs after being suspended in the Roller Coaster for over 5 hours.

Below: We all enjoyed seeing Mrs. Hart's distant cousin at the stock show. Mooooooo!

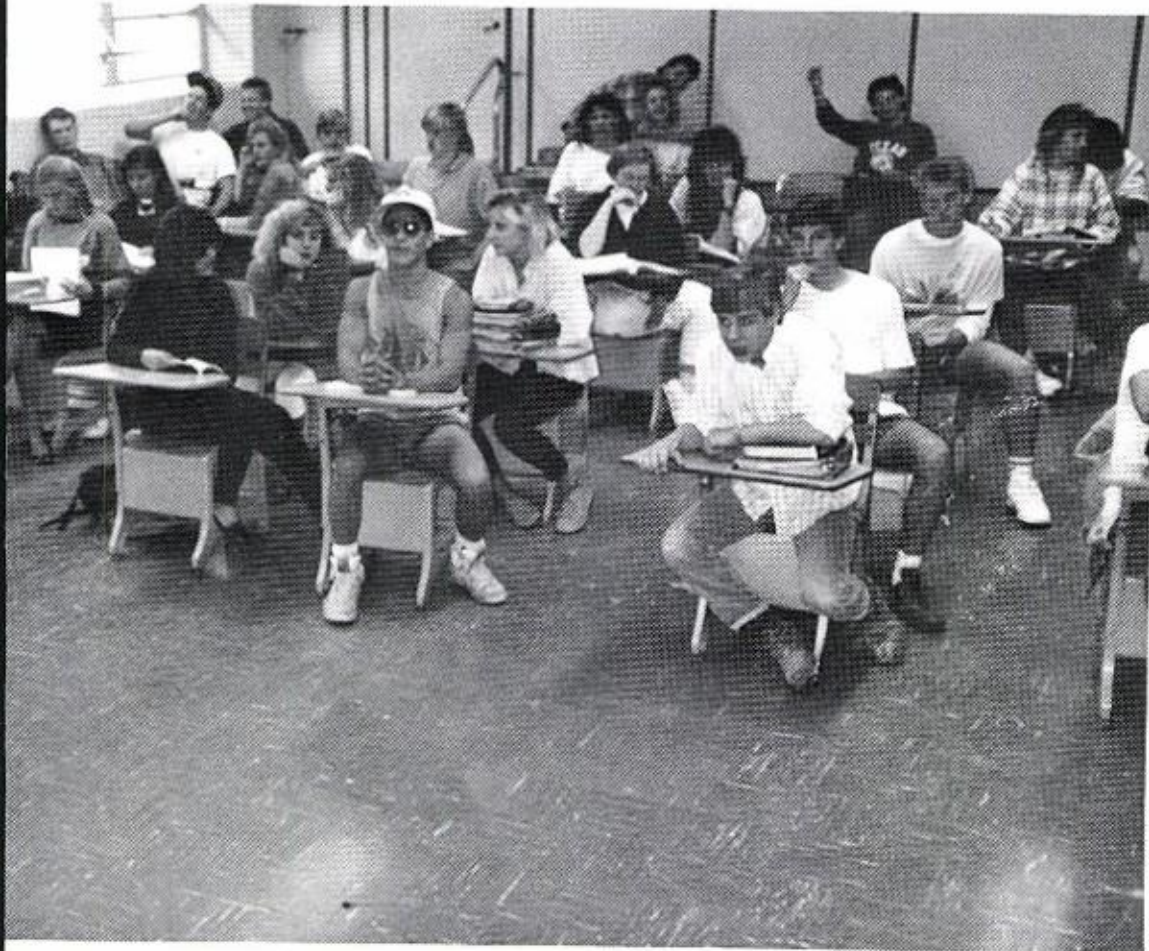

Left: Libby Farrimond, Carrie Sharp, and Heather Snow relax on their way to Europe. Little did they know that their plane was being hijacked to Cuba. They look happy now but you should have seen their faces when they landed at Havana International. Below: Unidentified Heightsters party down in Colorado.

Susanne Marker
1969-1988

Do not stand at my grave and weep;
I am not there.
I do not sleep.

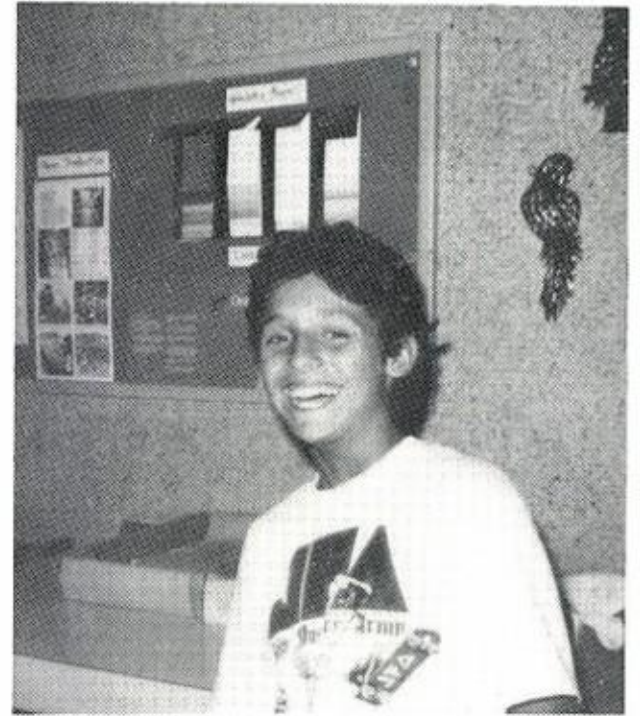

I am a thousand winds that blow.
I am the diamond's glint in snow.
I am the sunlight on ripened grain.
I am the gentle autumn's rain.

When you awaken in the morning's hush,
I am the swift uplifting rush
Of gurer birds in circled flight.
I am the soft stars that shine at night.

Do not stand at my grave and cry;
I am not there.
I did not die.

A FISH FRENZY

As we entered the halls of Alamo Heights High School, we made an impression. It is a well known fact that it is not easy to be a fish, but we did it our way. We made a sweep of all the contests that year. At our first hall decorating contest, and needless to say the last, we took first prize above all upper classmen. Our hall not only outdid our elders, but we humiliated them. The class jar competition was highly competitive. Again we showed our spirit, this time by contributing money to the Student Council. Our reward for our efforts was the fabulous "Welcome to the Muledome" mural. Everytime anyone enters the gym to see a basketball game, they will be reminded by our efforts. In 1984-1985 our class gave high school a future to look forward to.

Top: Charles Wandless, Dayna Holleron, Cathryn Farri-mond.

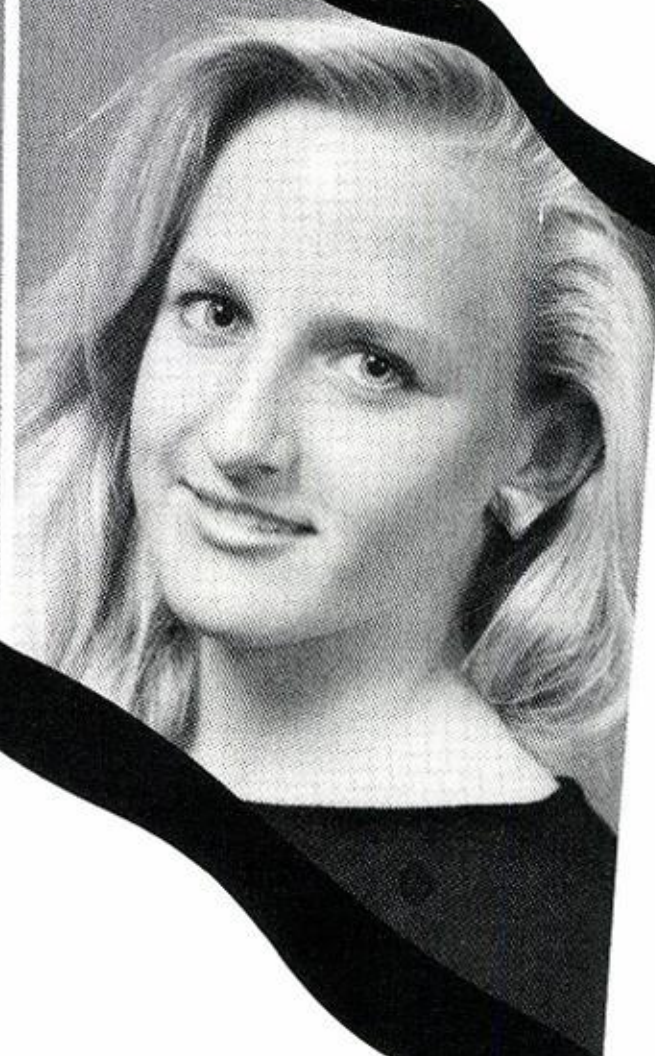

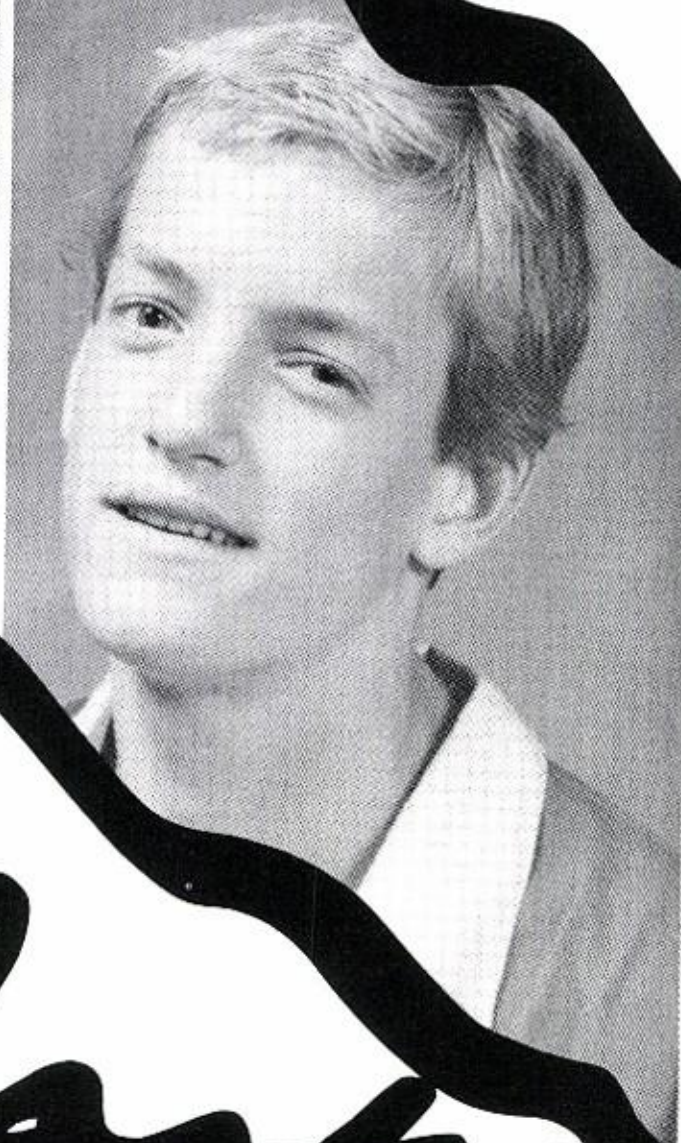

The Future Of '88

The door to the future is wide open, but the directions once in it are many and varied. Many of us will go away to college and prepare for the careers of our choice, and many will go directly to the job market. A majority of this year's college-bound seniors are interested in T.C.U. and the University of Texas in Austin. The fraternity and sorority organizations are an attraction to interested seniors, and many organizations have begun rushing them. Other seniors are interested in the Armed Forces, or simply finding their start in the job market. Whether it be lawyer, fashion designer, bank teller, or lieutenant, every one of our senior class has the makings of a success. We are the future and the future looks better than ever. I hope we will all return to see each other at our twentieth year reunion so we can hear about all the progress and development our dreams have gone through. We will all be near forty and will be married, some parents, and inevitably fatter. Our children might even be entering high school themselves, hopefully our high school. The clothes will be skimpier, the music faster, but in confidence our school will still retain the values we know it to have. As Sir Richard Steele wrote, "Every man is the maker of his own fortune," and it seems that the fortune of the class of '88 is exceedingly promising.

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT!!

Heightsters once again displayed their enthusiasm for the Mules at our Muledome pep rallies. Somehow, somehow our good ole administration arranged two pep rallies for us this year. We participated in one during football season and one in basketball season. The ever famous skits were a prominent barrel of laughs, along with some new additions such as relay races and the Spirit Meter. The cheerleaders kept us entertained with their chants and smiles while the Spurs danced right into our hearts. Along with the music of the band and the fight for the Spirit Stick

(won by the Seniors) came the honored players. Of course, we all know the real meat of the rally was "us", as a whole, the student body. Thanks, kids, for supporting and participating in A.H.H.S. sports!!!!

Left: Catherine Browning got an aerobic workout by being the official Spirit Meter. Her job was to run up and down the scale to show Spirit and No Spirit.

Right: Ron Weiss, Chris Moore, Albert McNeel, Cuatro Groos, and Brady Hardy demonstrate their abilities to be real men in drag. Hey, Ron! Your slip is showing!

Looking Back At The Holidays

Winter Break marked the first long-awaited holiday for all of us Heightsters. We bought our friends Christmas presents and realized how expensive everything really was.

We celebrated Christmas by going skiing in Colorado, hunting in the hill country, and even sunbathing in Hawaii.

All of our brothers and sisters and even friends from college came home. We enjoyed egg nog, Christmas carols and chestnuts roasting on an open fire.

New Year's Eve was spent with loved ones and close friends. We either went to private parties or celebrated downtown watching the fifteen minute fireworks show that started at midnight by the Alamo.

We have so much to look forward to this year like the Winter and Summer Olympics, the presidential elections and for the Class of '88, graduation and the right to vote. Heightsters have a busy year to look forward to.

Do You Love Me?

Sr. Valentine's Day marked a very special time in our lives in '88. Once again Los Amigos sold the student body and faculty their ever-so-famous carnations. Finding our names on the big red heart, plastered in main hall, became the unofficial intramural sport of the week. We sent carnations to our girlfriends and boyfriends. Those of us who forgot to buy carnations sent our "friends" flowers thru the office or surprised each other by giving balloons. Some of us even got around to giving each other candy, cookies, and kisses. On this holiday, we became festive by dressing in red and white.

For the first time this year we had a chance to show others that we cared. Sr. Valentine's Day has proven to be one of the favorite holidays for Heightsters.

ABOVE: Los Amigos members stand next to the heart which displayed the names of the people who will receive carnations.

Let's Rodeo

The middle of February brought us warm weather as well as the 1988 Rodeo. The week of festivities started with the traditional trail ride and the 6 a.m. breakfast. Despite the fact that most of us did not attend the breakfast, we came well informed that Rodeo season had started.

Heightsters spent the whole week going to the stock show as well as participating as bull riders. We spent most of our time and money on the carnival rides even though they were $2.25 each. We easily spent $30 in one night.

While re Cooperating from the rides, we went to the livestock barns. Those of us who took dates found ourselves playing games and winning stuffed animals. We even tested our strength on the boxing bags. We wanted to know if we had what it takes. The rodeo left as fast as it came. Yiha!!! Ride 'em, cowboy!!!!

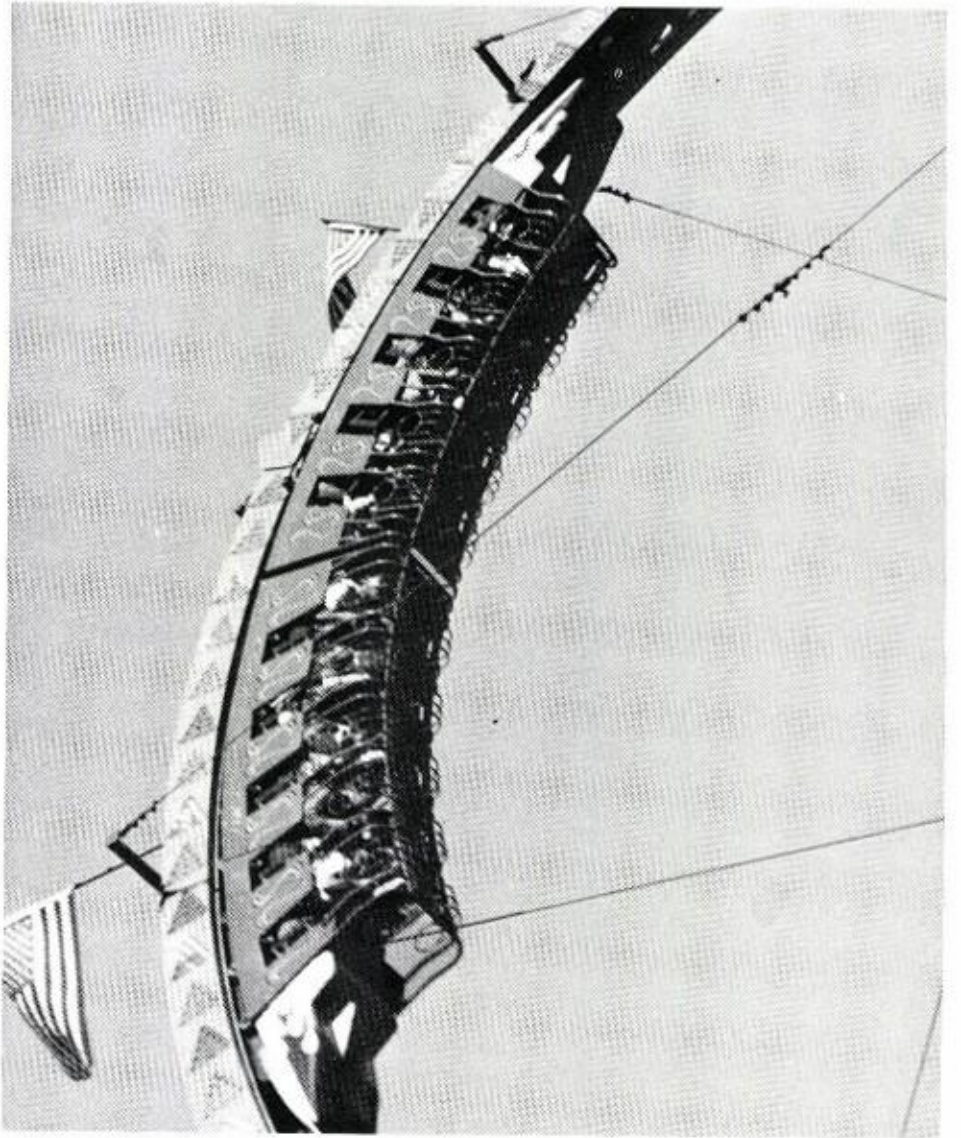

Above Left: There was a lot of competing done at the 1988 Rodeo. We all enjoyed seeing the guys ride and show their stuff.

WHERE DID YOU GO?

Spring Break '88 marked a week long vacation for all of us kids at Alamo Heights. Once again we were able to relax and unwind. It was a time to concentrate on our rans, pocket books, and reputations.

Spring Break was also a time for exploring and discovering with friends. A group of 30 Alamo Heights students toured Europe with Randy White, Delbert Rowland and Linda Anderson. The trip consisted of places like London, Paris and Loire Valley. Some of us stayed close to the beaches. Port A. and South Padre were still everybody's favorites. Then there were those Heightsters who traveled to Hawaii, California, Jamaica, and as far as Africa.

Spring Break was basically the time to get away from school, soak up some rays, and sightsee. We will always remember the fun we had on Spring Break '88. We will never forget the places we saw or the friends we made.

Below Left: Cam Cariffe did some motor cross racing in Australia. Unfortunately he did not finish the race because he took the wrong turn but was later discovered living as a translator for a women's aborigine tribe.

Above Middle: With her money she earned from her garage sale, Teri Soules now lives at 222 Loire Valley with the rest of the AIFS tour group who ran away during Spring Break.

They look happy now but you should have seen their faces when they landed at Havana International. Below: Unidentified Heightsters party down in Colorado.

Right: Lisa Fuhrman looks smitten as she stares at all the hot guys on the beach in Port Aransas.

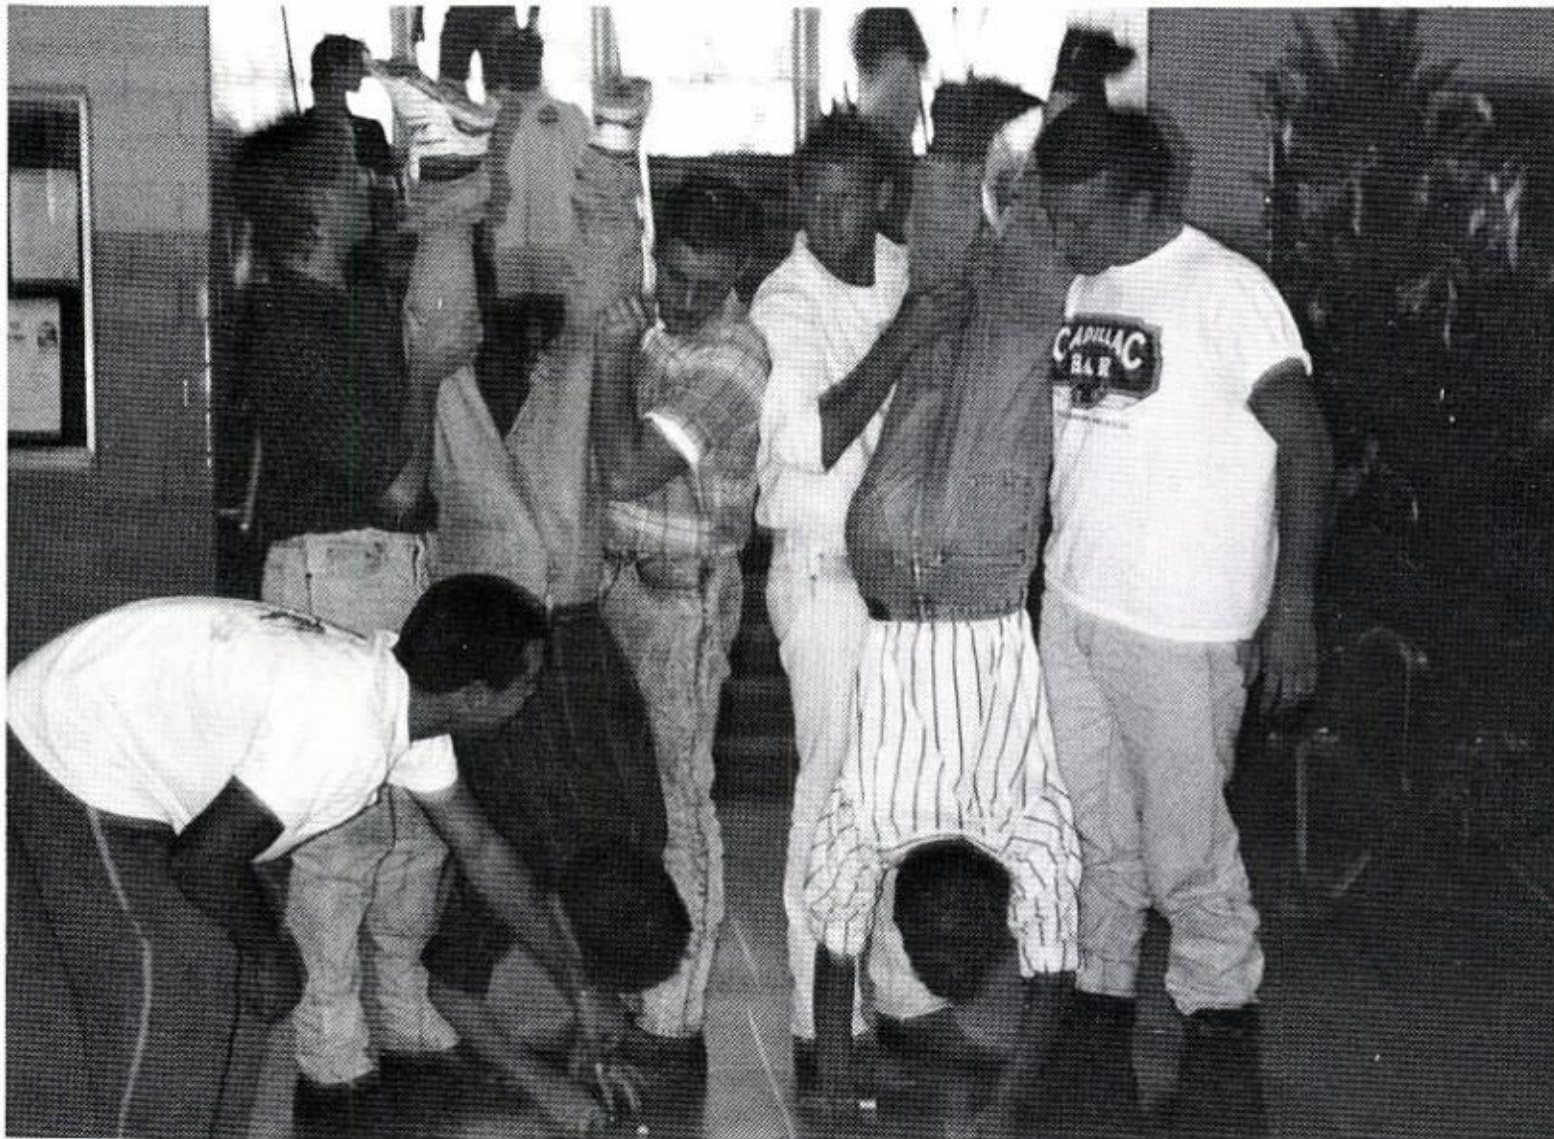

A.H. Law

This year, more than ever, the A.H. law force has been cracking down hard on students. The attendance office has given out more C's and fewer A's than ever before.

A phone call home is all it takes to get two big hours of detention. Seniors have learned their place as the dominant class. They still get their way, and the emblem is kept sparkling clean. Police keep us on our toes, checking for red zones and the reserved spots hourly. Let's face it: we've had a rough year.

ABOVE: JoJo Starrmiller, Nick Lambrecht, Albert McNeil, Jeff Pitluck, and Raymond Bodkin hold up two freshmen as they scrub the emblem with toothbrushes.

10 Things To Remember

1. Fish do not walk on emblem.
2. Mrs. Sarran does call home.
3. Do not park in reserve spaces.
4. After four tardies you get detention.
5. Do not ask Ms. Willis to repeat anything.
6. Lunch starts at 12:35.
7. Do not park in red zones.
8. No smoking on campus.
9. Sr. Party is not a school function.
10. Football players are on a contract.

Working For The Weekend

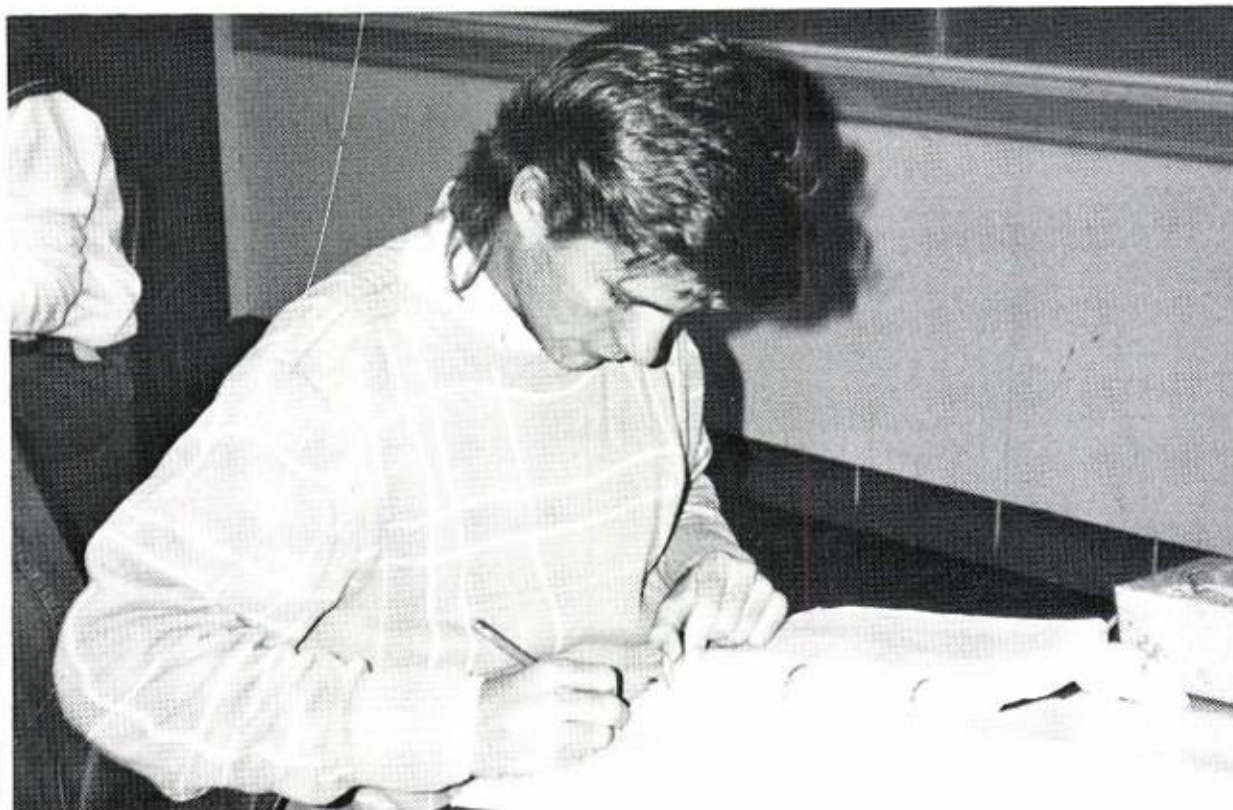

Heightsters have a different way of studying; we cram! Cramming has become an acquired talent to most Heights students. We cram anywhere from 2 hrs. before a test to 10 minutes before the main event.

Hardly any studying was done during six week tests. We all saved our cramming for the final exams.

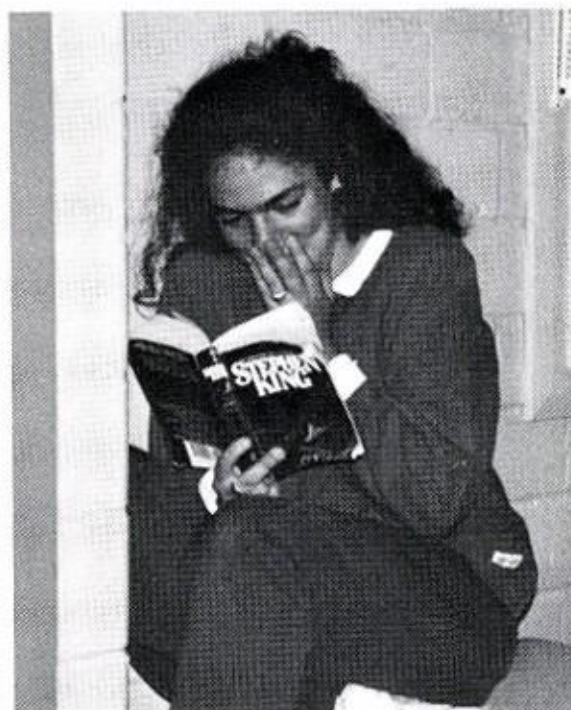

The Freshmen could not use their cramming skills to get by, and the Sophomores are still trying to master the skill. Juniors seem to believe that they've got it down but the Seniors still come out on top, for they can honestly say that they have mastered the skill of cramming. This all goes to show that Heightsters lead life in the fast lane.

ABOVE: Mike Corbett gives a serious side to his classwork. A slight runny nose couldn't even stop him from completing his work.

BELOW: Julie Hooper is dumbfounded as she discovers she studied the wrong material for the test she is about to take.

ABOVE: Libby Farrimond gets some last minute material down during lunch. She frequents the Main hall stairs. Look for her!

A FISH FRENZY

As we entered the halls of Alamo Heights High School, we made an impression. It is a well known fact that it is not easy to be a fish, but we did it our way. We made a sweep of all the contests that year. At our first hall decorating contest, and needless to say the last, we took first prize above all upper classmen. Our hall not only outdid our elders, but we humiliated them. The class jar competition was highly competitive. Again we showed our spirit, this time by contributing money to the Student Council. Our reward for our efforts was the fabulous "Welcome to the Muledome" mural. Everytime anyone enters the gym to see a basketball game, they will be reminded by our efforts. In 1984-1985 our class gave high school a future to look forward to.

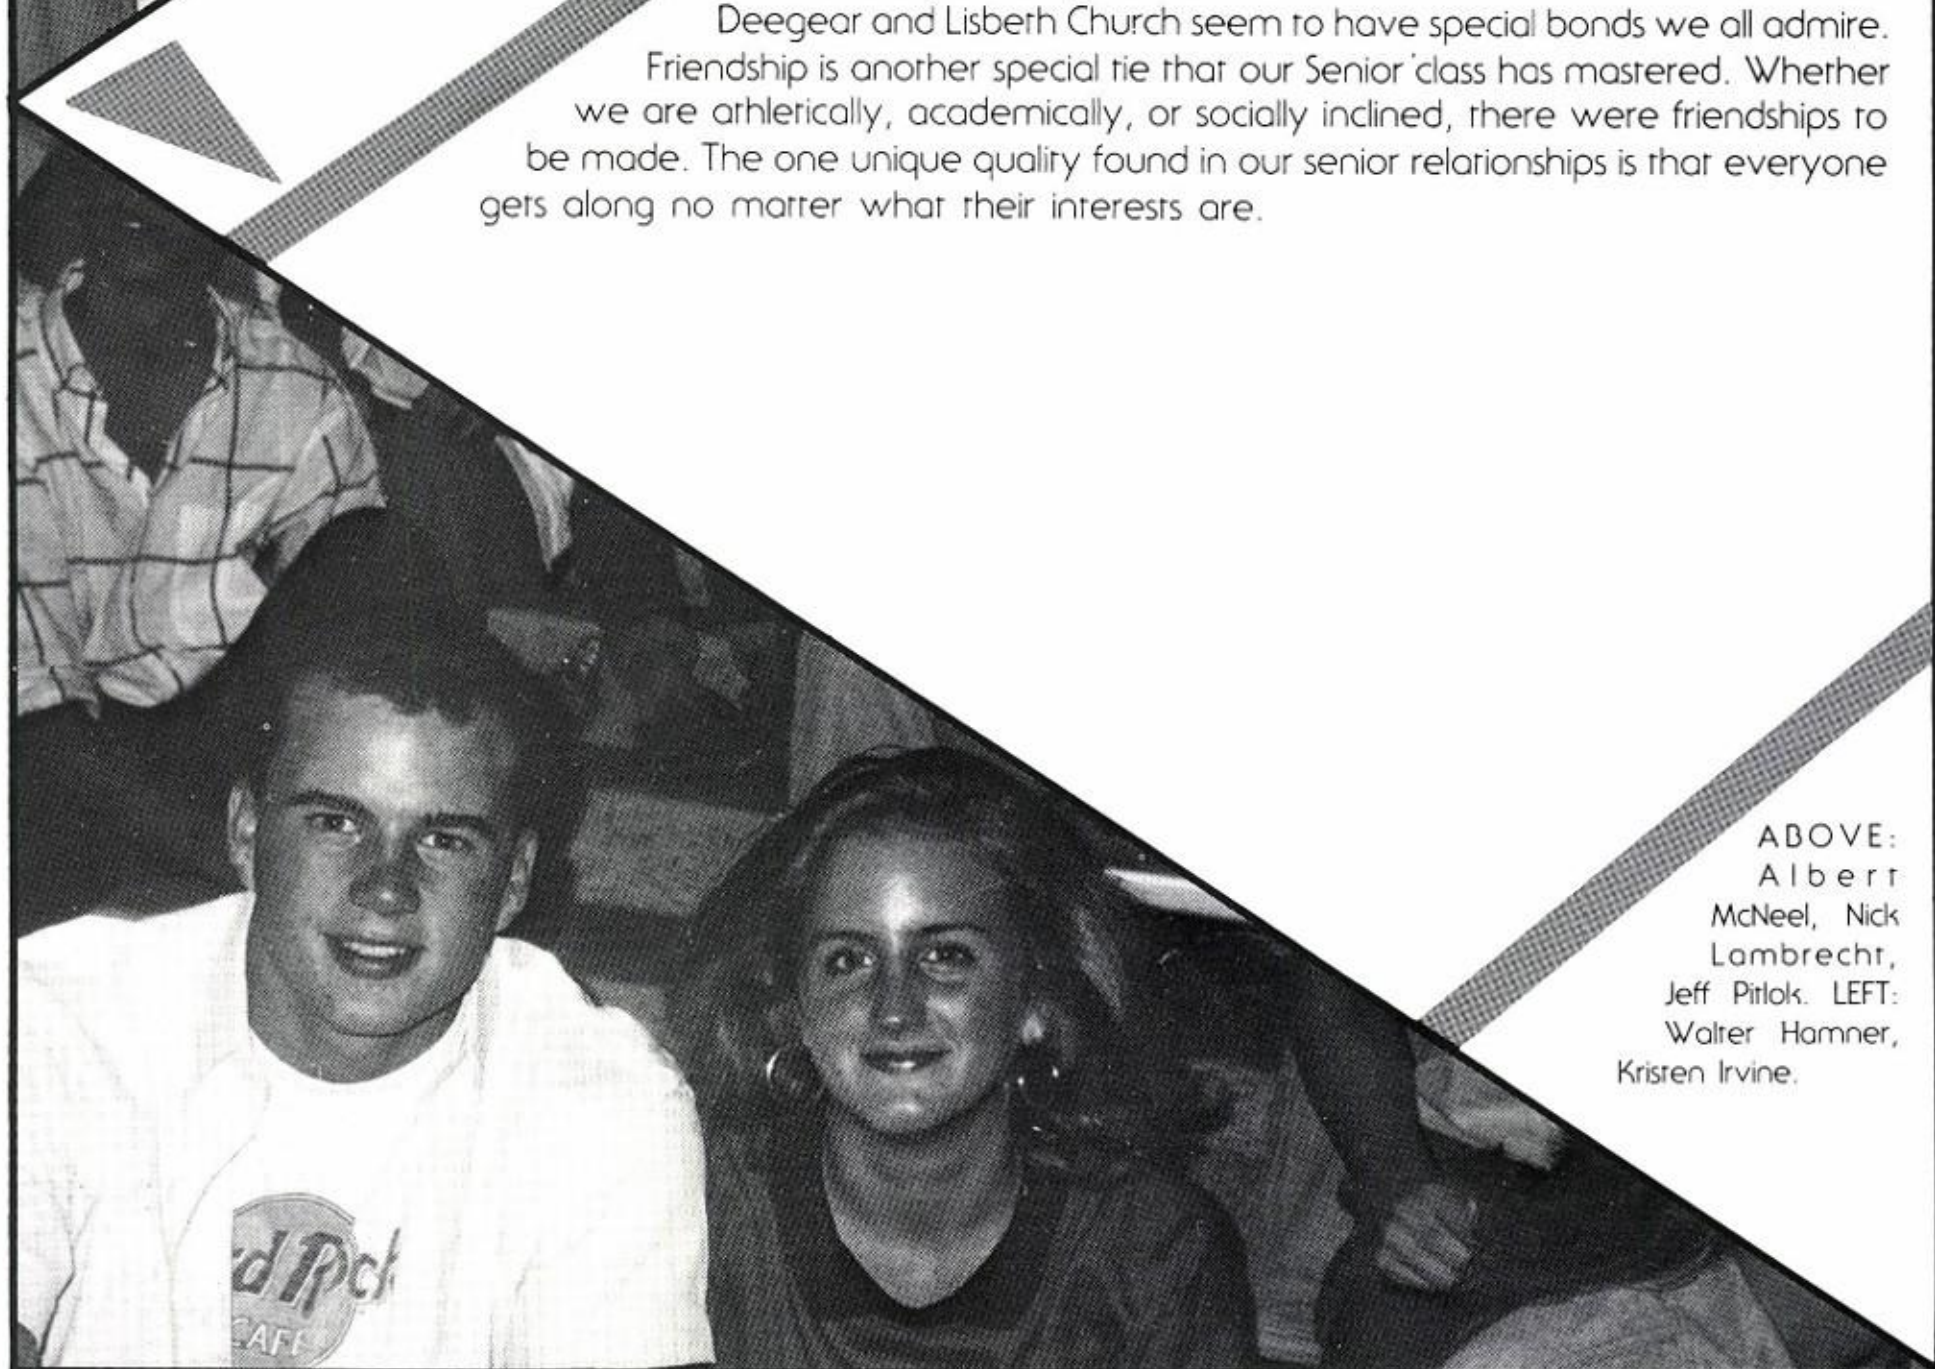

Top: Charles Wandless, Dayna Holleran, Cathryn Farri-mond.

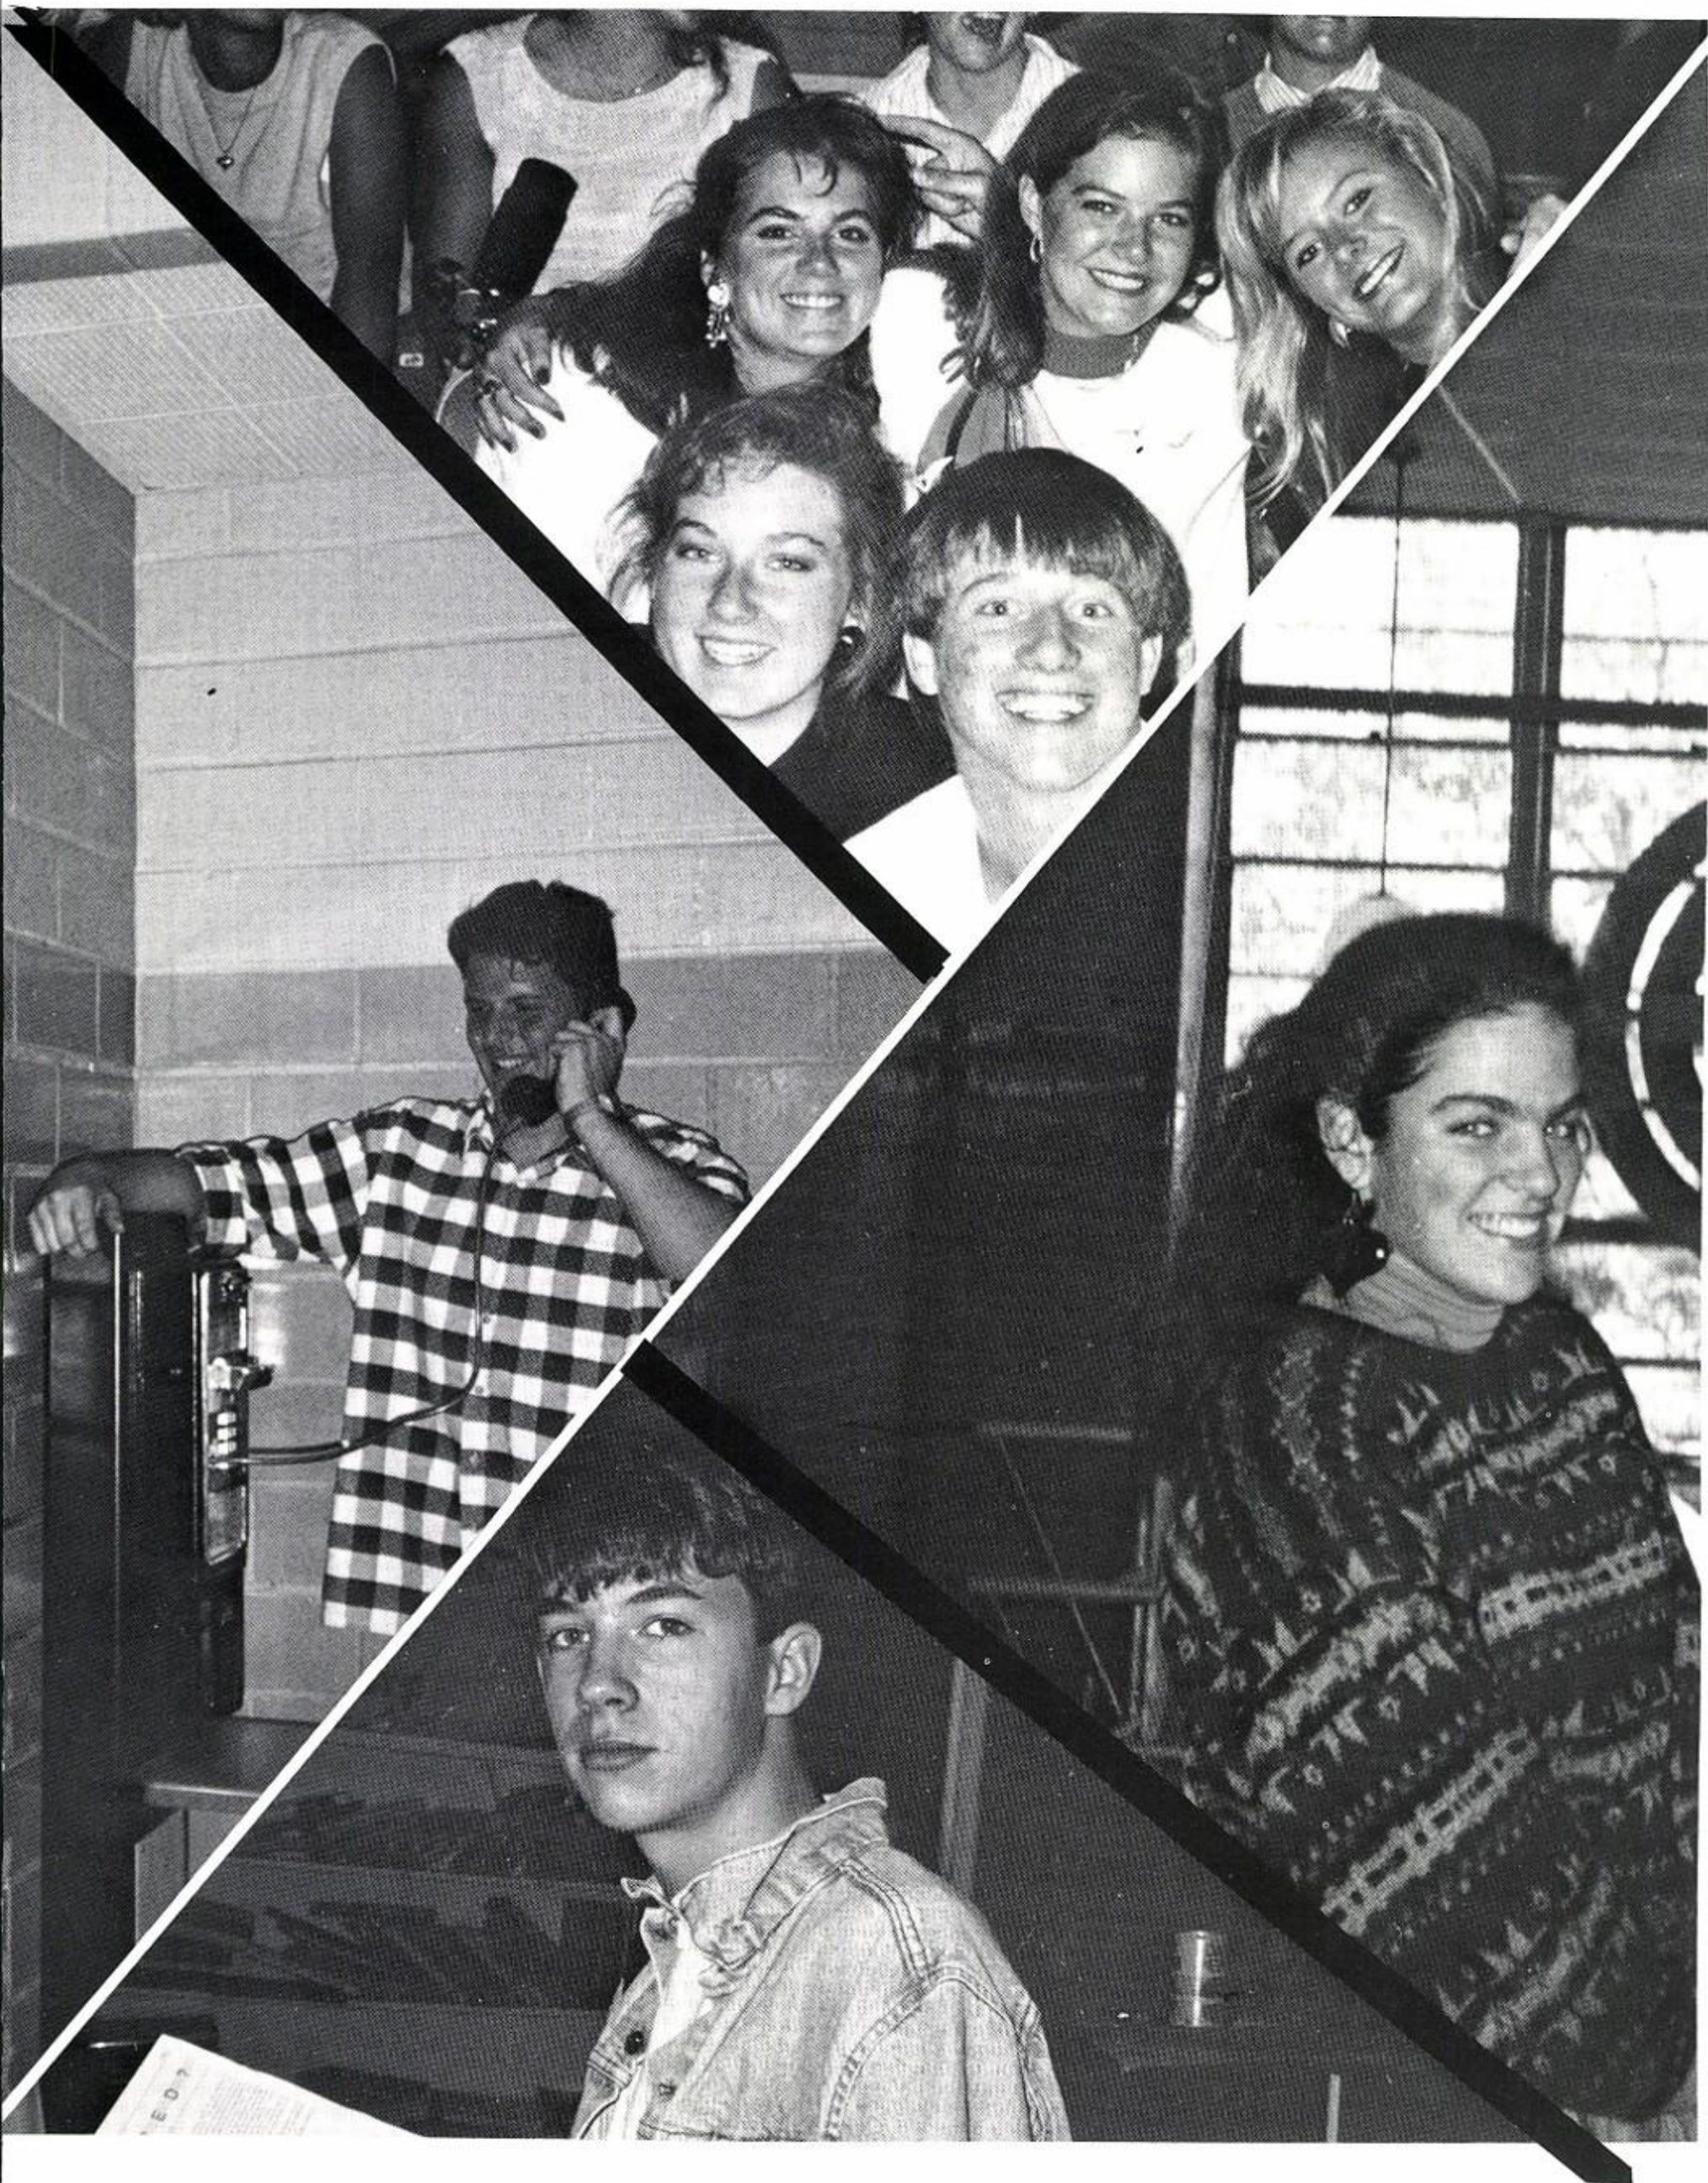

One On One

Throughout our four years, we have forged relationships that will last for a good while. We have watched our friends develop and mature into the personalities we know today. Love is a many splendid thing and has come in excess to the Class of '88. Journey with me to the days when Jesse Ramirez and Chandra Rodriguez, Kent Calgaard and Cathryn Farrimond, and Heather Snow and Chris Moore were blazing romances. Today's love affairs are perhaps more serious and longer lasting. Walter Hamner and Kristen Irvine and James Deegear and Lisbeth Church seem to have special bonds we all admire. Friendship is another special tie that our Senior class has mastered. Whether we are athlerically, academically, or socially inclined, there were friendships to be made. The one unique quality found in our senior relationships is that everyone gets along no matter what their interests are.

At Last Their Year Has Come

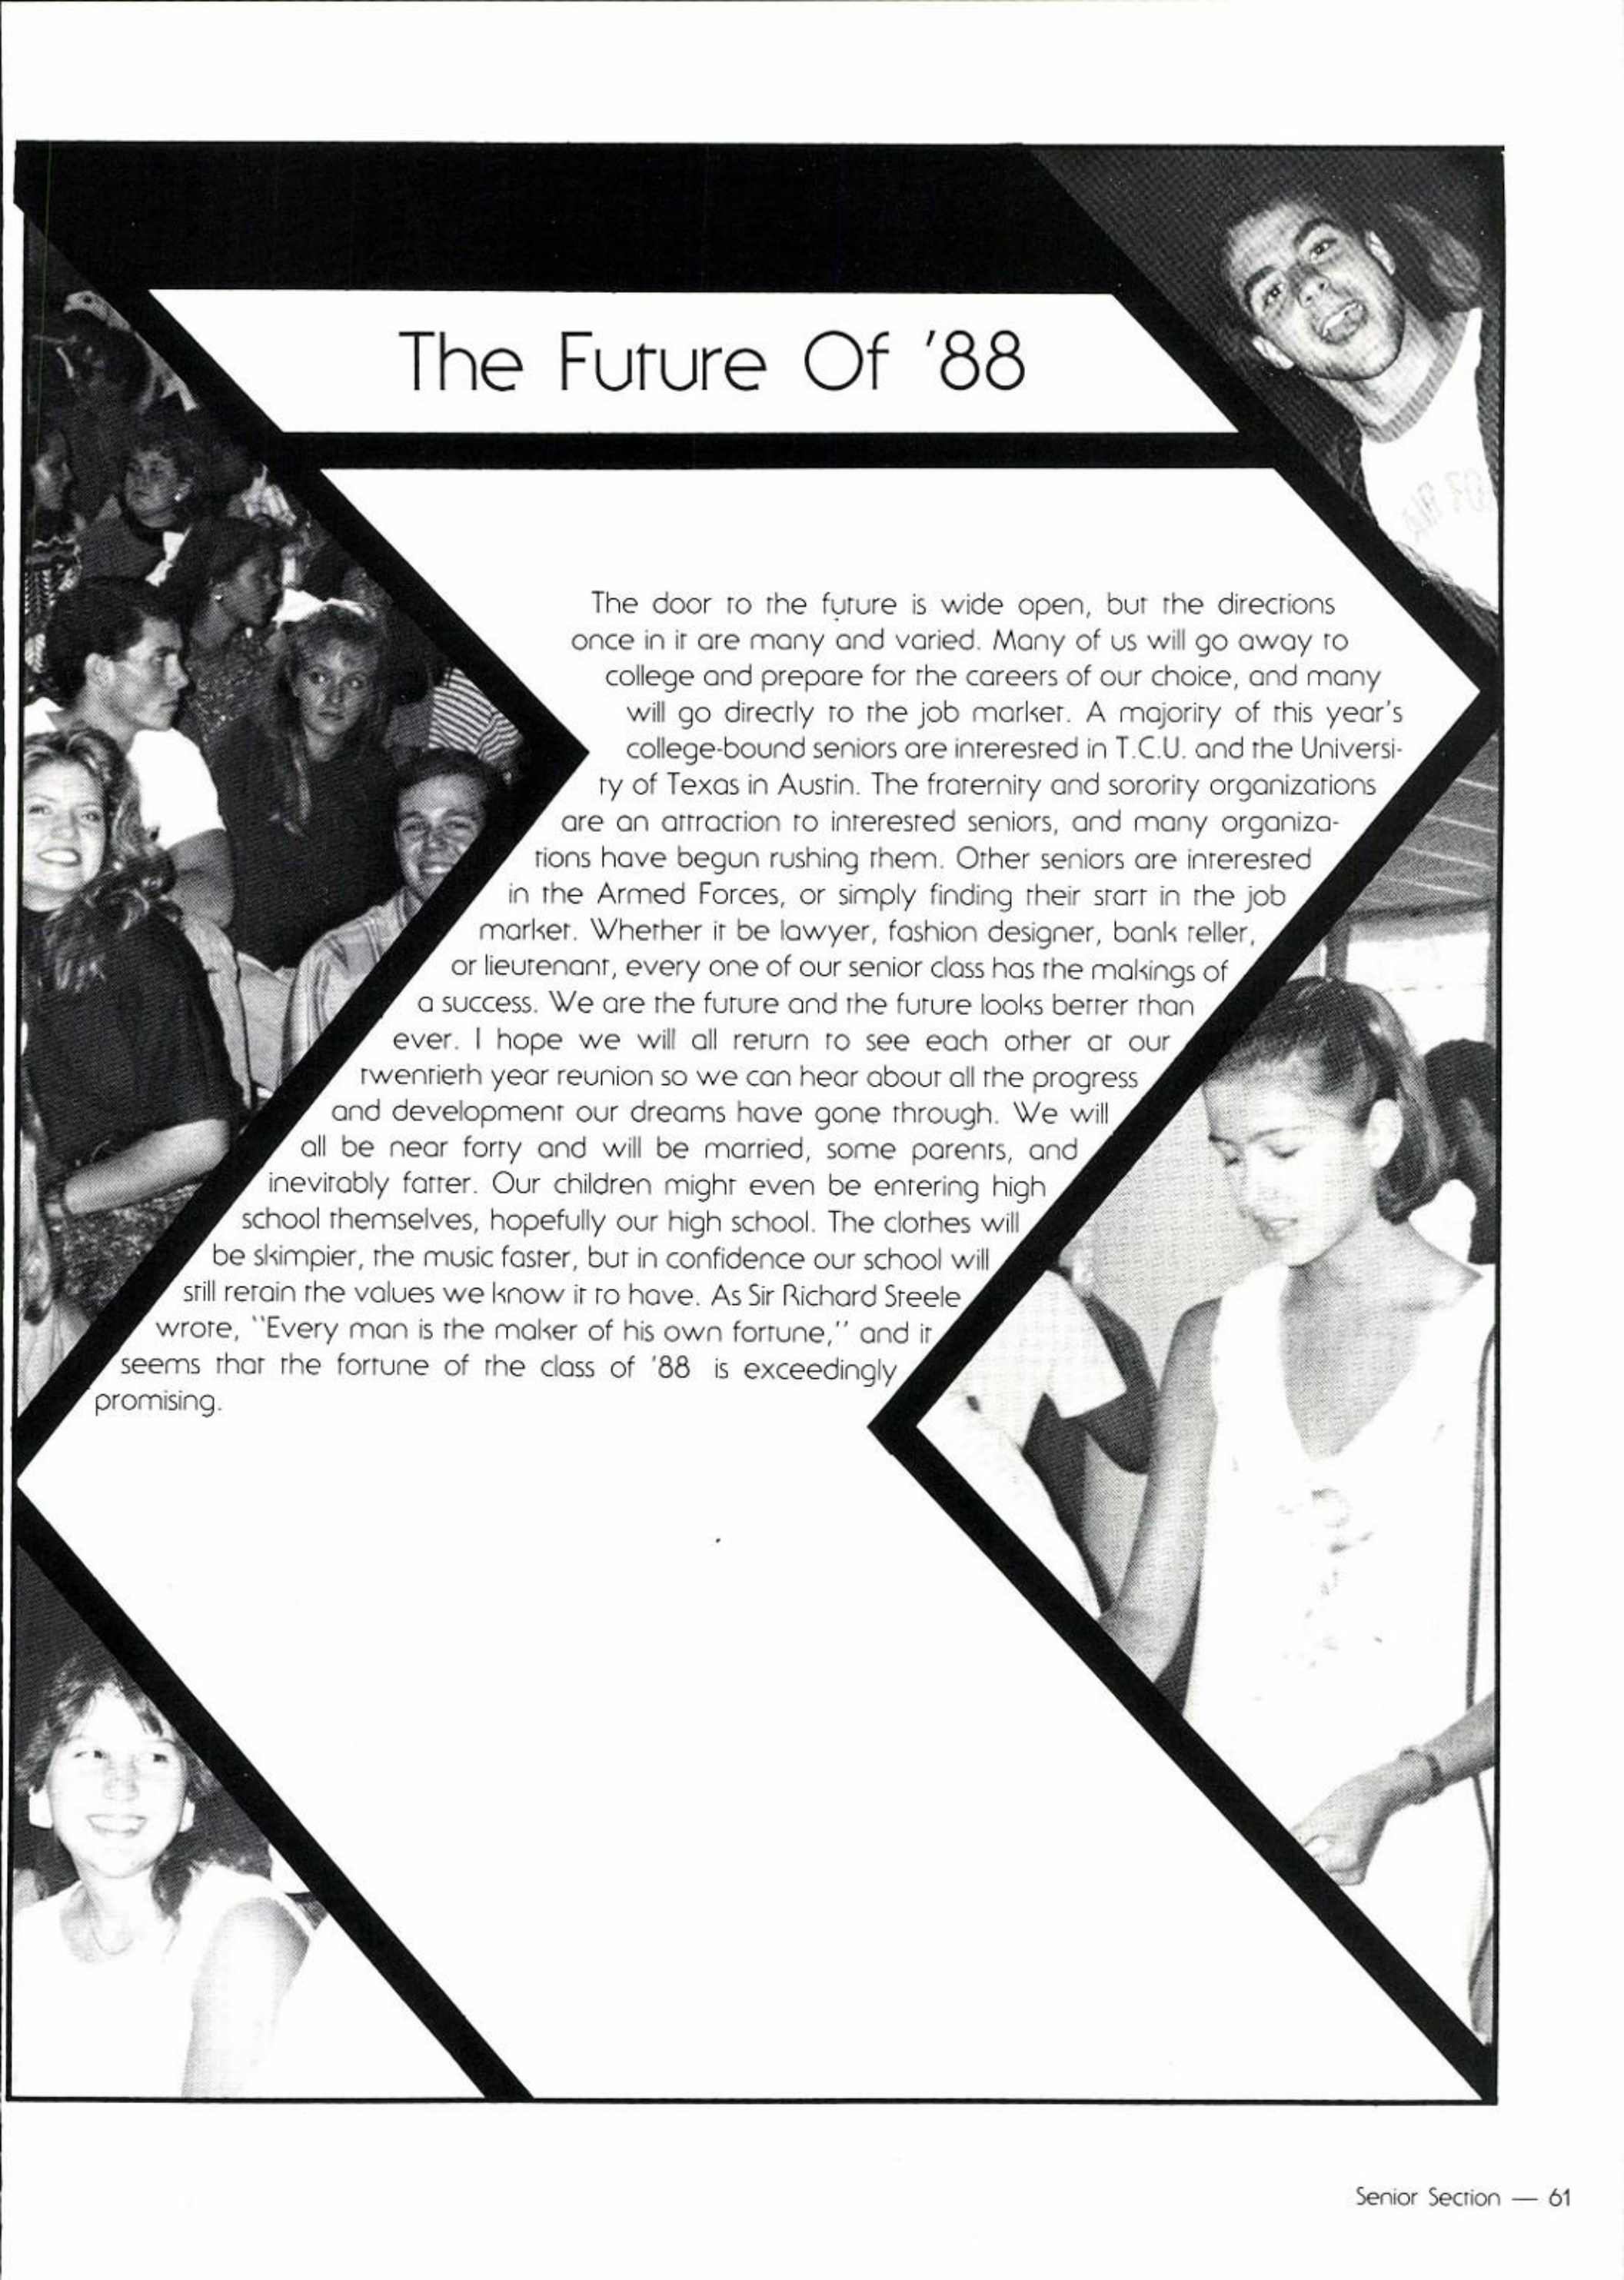

Some might say it is a joy, some might call it a heartbreak, but our class of 1988 has finally arrived at our senior year. It has been a long and treacherous road, cluttered with books, pencils, backpacks, and teachers setting up detours. We have gained and lost friends, joined and quit sports, passed and failed courses. To arrive at this point, some might think we all deserve medals of honor, but, to most of us a diploma is all we need. No matter how hard we made it on our teachers, or how hard our teachers made it on us, we got through it. We have experienced nearly twenty different teachers over our four years; it was harder on us than it was on them. I believe our class stands out above future or past classes. We have displayed respect, unity, concern, and, above all, loyalty. Possibly our minds might be wandering off to colleges or other future plans, but our hearts will remain true to the blue and gold.

The Future Of '88

The door to the future is wide open, but the directions once in it are many and varied. Many of us will go away to college and prepare for the careers of our choice, and many will go directly to the job market. A majority of this year's college-bound seniors are interested in T.C.U. and the University of Texas in Austin. The fraternity and sorority organizations are an attraction to interested seniors, and many organizations have begun rushing them. Other seniors are interested in the Armed Forces, or simply finding their start in the job market. Whether it be lawyer, fashion designer, bank teller, or lieutenant, every one of our senior class has the makings of a success. We are the future and the future looks better than ever. I hope we will all return to see each other at our twentieth year reunion so we can hear about all the progress and development our dreams have gone through. We will all be near forty and will be married, some parents, and inevitably fatter. Our children might even be entering high school themselves, hopefully our high school. The clothes will be skimpier, the music faster, but in confidence our school will still retain the values we know it to have. As Sir Richard Steele wrote, "Every man is the maker of his own fortune," and it seems that the fortune of the class of '88 is exceedingly promising.

As the Class of 1988's picture is placed among others before us, I can't help but recall what forged these faces. From Howard, to Woodridge, to Cambridge Elementary Schools, and Alamo Heights Junior School, we have matured into something special. It is an odd feeling we get when we look back on all the changes that have occurred. Friends have grown taller, others have been passed up from their once immense height, some are fatter, still others thinner, nonetheless, we are still friends. Remembrances of birthdays, sleep-overs, and other treasured times enforce the ties we have today, and will add to those which we will make in the future. Our development and growth came from the periods in grammar school, and our personalities reflect that growth. We have all made ourselves into something special.

Seniors of '88 Define the Word Great

As the storm peaks and the school becomes spectators of the magnificence, the Seniors of 1988 put their mark on our high school. Seniors sold the traditional Shishkabobs at Howdy night and made a $500.00 profit. President Robert Hammond activated the selling and enforcing of senior parking lot stickers, which as usual, are very popular. Mrs. Linda Anderson and Mr. Bob Parker sponsored the class officers during their 4-year stay at A.H. and were invaluable to the grateful seniors.

The seniors' gift to the school will beautify the school and will be a lasting remembrance to the class of '88. Through thick and thin, the seniors did it all with the adjective that they are synonymous with GREAT!!!

Juniors Experience Upperclassmanship

The Juniors finally made it to the "upper-classman" status, and let their creative style flow even more. Howdy Night was a success for the Junior class this year; they raised over $300 by selling slices of pizza.

Their booth proved to be quite popular and they ended up selling out early. With Cindy Nentwich in charge as President this year, the Juniors profitted through many endeavors, such as car washes, bake sales, and other various fundraisers. The Junior class was also quite involved in sports with many of them competing on the varsity teams. In retrospect, the year 1987-88 was an exciting preview of the Senior class of 1989.

Class Of '89 Mulemobiles

Cars of different sizes, shapes and colors litter the parking lots and streets surrounding Alamo Heights. Most Juniors drive American made cars, but a lucky few drive expensive imports. There are three categories of cars in the Junior class: the machos, studs, and topless. All Juniors who drive their own cars fall into one of these categories. The requirements for a macho are as follows:

- 1) Broncho, Suburban, Blazer Jeep, or Wagoneer
- 2) Deafening stereos, preferably Alpine, Kenwood, or Pioneer
- 3) K.C. lights
- 4) Caked-on mud

From this group we move on to the second, the studs. Studs prefer flasher, sportier and faster cars. To uphold the stud image, one must appeal to passersby and invite excitement wherever he goes. Studs love to be watched. The conditions include: 1) Corvette, 300ZX, Mustang, Jetta, BMW, Prelude, Celica and Jag

2) Vuarners

3) Car alarms and radar detectors

The last group is the topless. People who prefer to go topless love the whipping wind, the hot sun, and all the attention they receive in their automobiles. Needs include:

- 1) Big, long older models or new ones like Mustangs, Chryslers, Things, and VW Rabbits

2) Blaring music (spare the expense, though, since it will just get ripped off)

3) Ray-Ban sunglasses

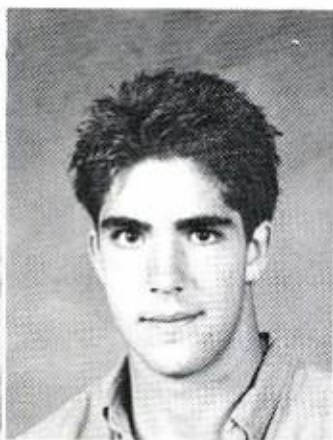

Owners of convertibles love them because they are great for the beach and awesome for meeting new people.

All Juniors love cars whether they are American-made or imports, cheap or costly, big or small. Cars are noticeable and appealing and definitely Alamo Heights

Munchin' Out

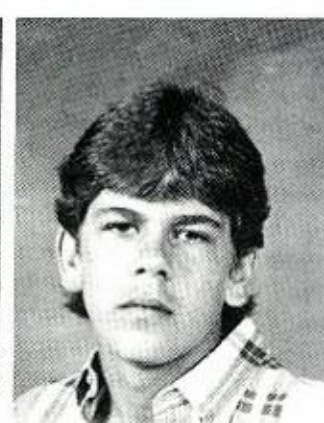

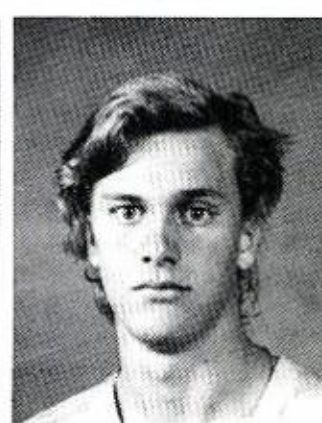

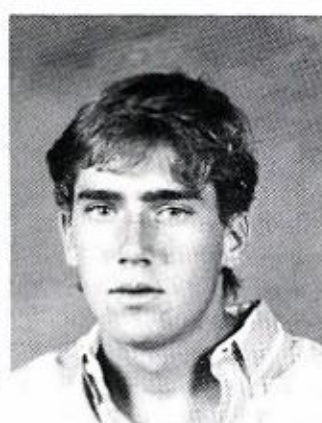

Juniors thrive on their lunch break. They always manage to make plans and end up piling tons of people in their cars for a well-deserved binge. Juniors will consume food just about anywhere and everywhere but these are their top five haunts. The first on the list is Teka Molina. Most Juniors Chow-Down here because of the appealing decor. Following Teka's is Wendy's. The New Super Bar is the main attraction. Hsiu Yu offers a delicious array of Chinese delicacies to satisfy starving Juniors. Students frequently eat at Chris Madrid's to "GET MACHO".

Sophomores Show Both Responsibility & Generosity

After an impressive freshman year, the Sophomores surprised us even more by exhibiting their true capabilities. At Howdy Night, more than $300.00 was earned at the class's sausage-on-a-stick booth. Generously, they donated most of this money and bought gift certificates to H.E.B. for the cafeteria ladies, who were very grateful. President Katie Foster participated in the President's Council and set up the calendar of events for the annual

A.H. Olympics. A successful car wash also added to the Sophomores' list of impressive accomplishments. With the help of Sponsor, Dr. Betty Moss, the class of 1990 showed what they could achieve.

The Olmos Staff Investigates The Charge That Sophomores Are Not Just There Or Here . . . The Sophomores Are Everywhere!

The teenager's pride and joy is a car. To be eligible to even get close to this object of adoration, one must be the right age and have made the correct test score! Most Sophomores take Driver's Education before or during their 10th grade year, in hopes of mastering the important skill of driving. Upon completion of the course at schools like All-American Driving or the Jewish Community Center, the coveted "learner's permit" is issued. The magic date arrives . . . the 16th birthday — the Sophomore rushes to the nearest Texas Department of Public Safety.

As described by Kelly Snell, the DPS office is filled with long lines of people that go around in circles, arrows pointing the masses in the correct direction. After handing the clerk behind the counter the necessary information, the student is given two sheets of paper to take the driving test. "Don't touch the poles while parallel parking and you'll have a good chance of passing," counsels Kelly.

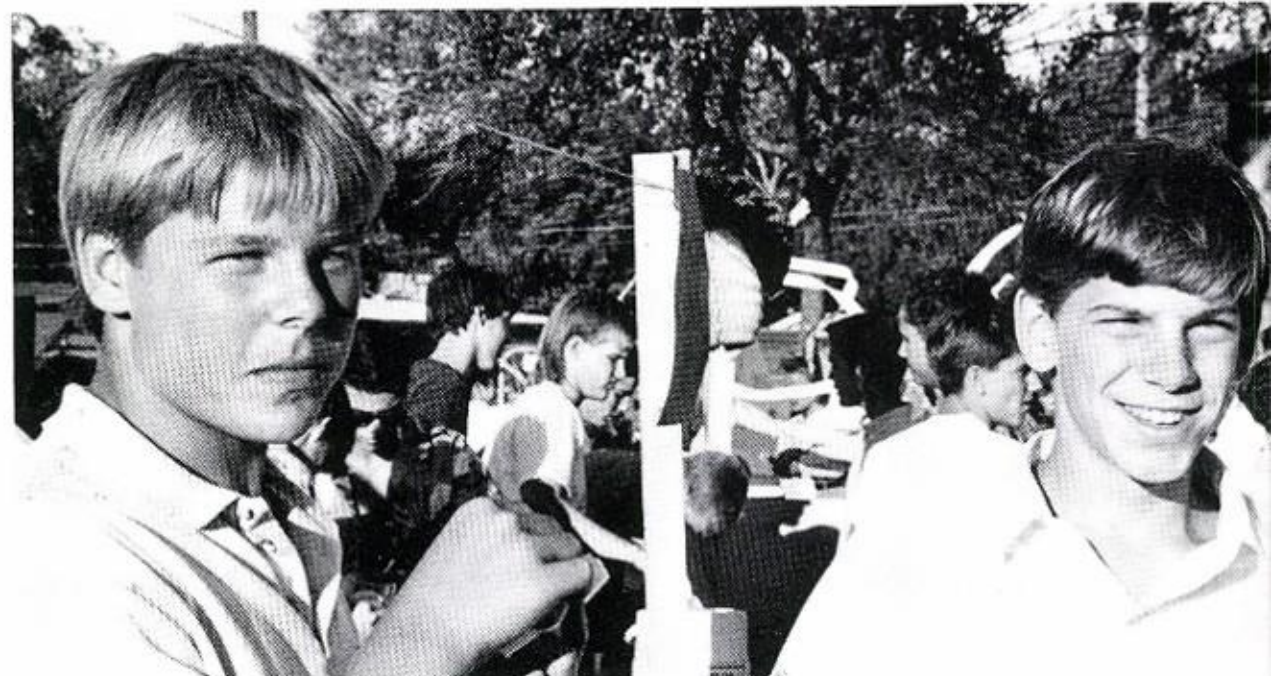

New drivers find they have lots of friends with errands to run, brothers and sisters to drop off at afternoon classes, and a money shortage from gas donation . . . The Sophomores are everywhere!

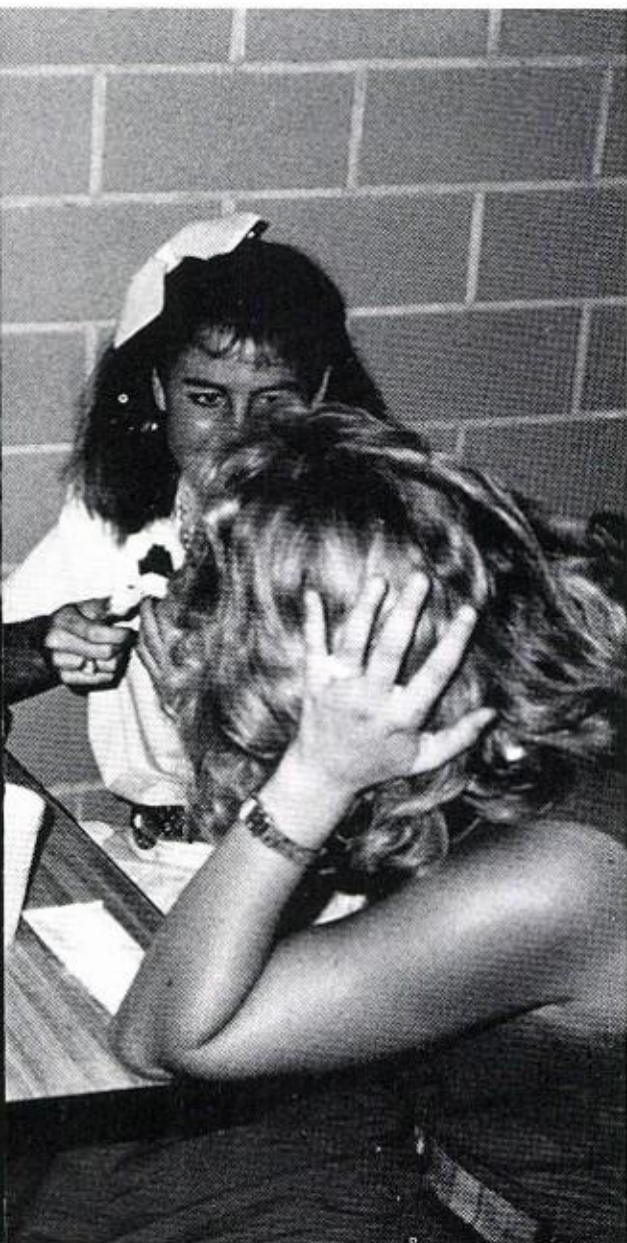

TOP RIGHT: In the pit Allison Duperier, Janna Byrd, and Meredith Fulton try to hide from the public.

Thinking about the hectic week she had just experienced, Downie Armstrong grins with relief that the weekend is here. The six weeks rest affected all the sophomores in Mr. Comer's "impossible" biology class. All eyes grew wide as the lengthy test was handed out. In a panic, Clark Wirth fell out of his desk, creating a domino effect. Maury Scott's rest paper fluttered to the floor, revealing itself to the entire class. Taking advantage of the opportunity, Chris Conklin dove for the paper, kicking Cecily Carnovale who knocked over Susana Cohen's contraband Big Gulp which spilled on Mr. Comer's test key, rendering it useless.

What Are The Sophomores Doing?

Imagine having only five minutes between classes! Blurred faces and hurried feet add up to Sophomores not getting to know much about each other during the school day. What are these students really like and what are the hobbies that bring them together after hours?

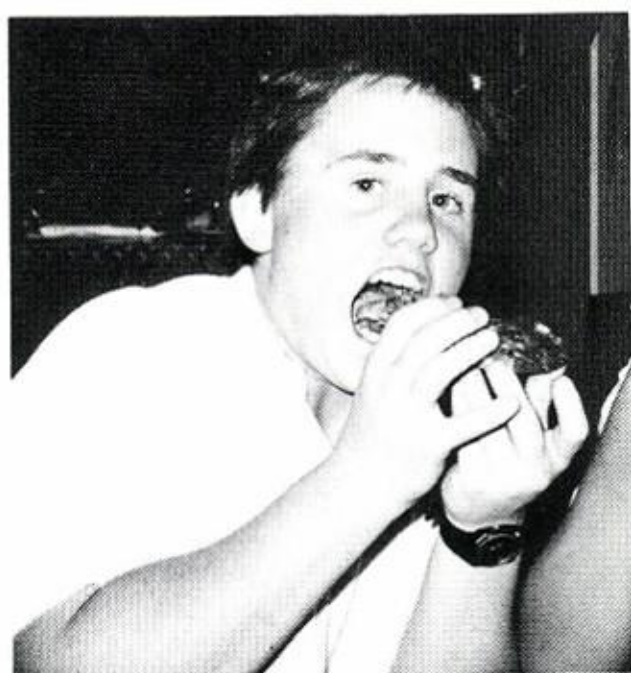

Tennis proved the most popular off-campus sport, with hunting running a very close second! According to a survey of 10th graders, music and playing musical instruments was right up there with tennis and hunting. Joe Astleford's many hobbies include golf, soccer, making bracelets, fishing, and watching the Rocky Horror Picture Show. Suzanna Cohen likes doing things with friends. Liz Bakke talks many hours on the phone! Ballooning and rappelling seem like once-in-a-lifetime opportunities to most people, but to Derick Thomson both sports are frequent hobbies. Chris Dewar, Garrison Sutton and Greg Baird express their love for basketball. Greg is also a collector of baseball cards and works with computers. Movies rate high on everyone's hobby list. Any time Gideon Jungman needs to get away and venture into another world, it's "Galaxy, here we come!" And many Sophomores spend a lot of time working with and for their churches.

Many Sophs collect things that might come in handy someday! Suzanne Person has a purse full of Happy Meal toys that stay hidden until she wants to play with them during class lectures. Street signs and miniature liquor bottles make up Brian Levy's colorful collection. But Pere Simone has no time for collecting, as he devotes many hours to his hobby of underwater basketweaving. Anthony Delgado enjoys playing his trumpet in the AH band. Four wheel races are Trey Willerson's way of hitting the road. Guess what Juliana Glover's fulltime hobbie is . . . chasing boys!

What are the Sophomores doing? They're too busy with all their hobbies to be found!

What Is A Sophomore?

Freshmen all seem to want to be one, but after nine months of being one, everyone who is one wants not to be one. Does that make sense? We decided it might be worthwhile to investigate further this apparently unnatural status.

The word, Sophomore, is derived from the Greek words sophos, meaning wise, and mos, meaning foolish. Most of the Sophomores we know definitely recognize their brilliance by now. But who would ever believe they are, as Webster's Dictionary put it, "feeble-minded . . . with a potential mental age of between eight and twelve years . . . (only) capable of doing routine work under supervision." No way!

We asked some of the class members to find out what being a Sophomore means to them. Marla Mason perhaps most appropriately described it, saying she feels like she's "in limbo", and John Greehey said this year he's "just trying to get by in school."

An anonymous contributor stated, "A 10th grade person is someone who is not in the 11th grade, not in the 12th grade, and definitely not in the 9th grade!" Profound.

A remarkably honest response came from another Sophomore who preferred not to be identified, saying "they are people who are trying to make up for their mistakes when they were freshmen." Isn't it gratifying to see how they have already gotten all those errors out of their system and are now prepared to be productive citizens?

Laura Walthall underlined a peculiar quality of the Sophomore saying "No one is new, but no one is old." Are they middle-aged people then? Mr. Newton and Mr. Rowland categorize a Sophomore as "one year older than a freshman and two years younger than a senior." But we know some freshmen who are older than most sophomores and some sophomores older than seniors. This can get confusing.

Looking for a more official version, we decided to visit with the class leadership. We talked to Class of 1990 President, Katie Foster. She sees a Sophomore as "a person in the 10th grade who mooches off older people (PREFERABLY WITH GOOD BODS AND NICE FACES) for rides to lunch." Now we were getting somewhere — obviously they do have goals and objectives, at least if the Sophomores are female.

After numerous interviews and in-depth analysis of this subject, perhaps the safest is the more basic definition provided by Rusty Smith, "Somebody who should be a Junior in the coming year," or Robin Rose' "they've graduated from the freshmen classes, but are not quite in the upper classes." And Chuck Fitzpatrick calls it "only their second year in High School."

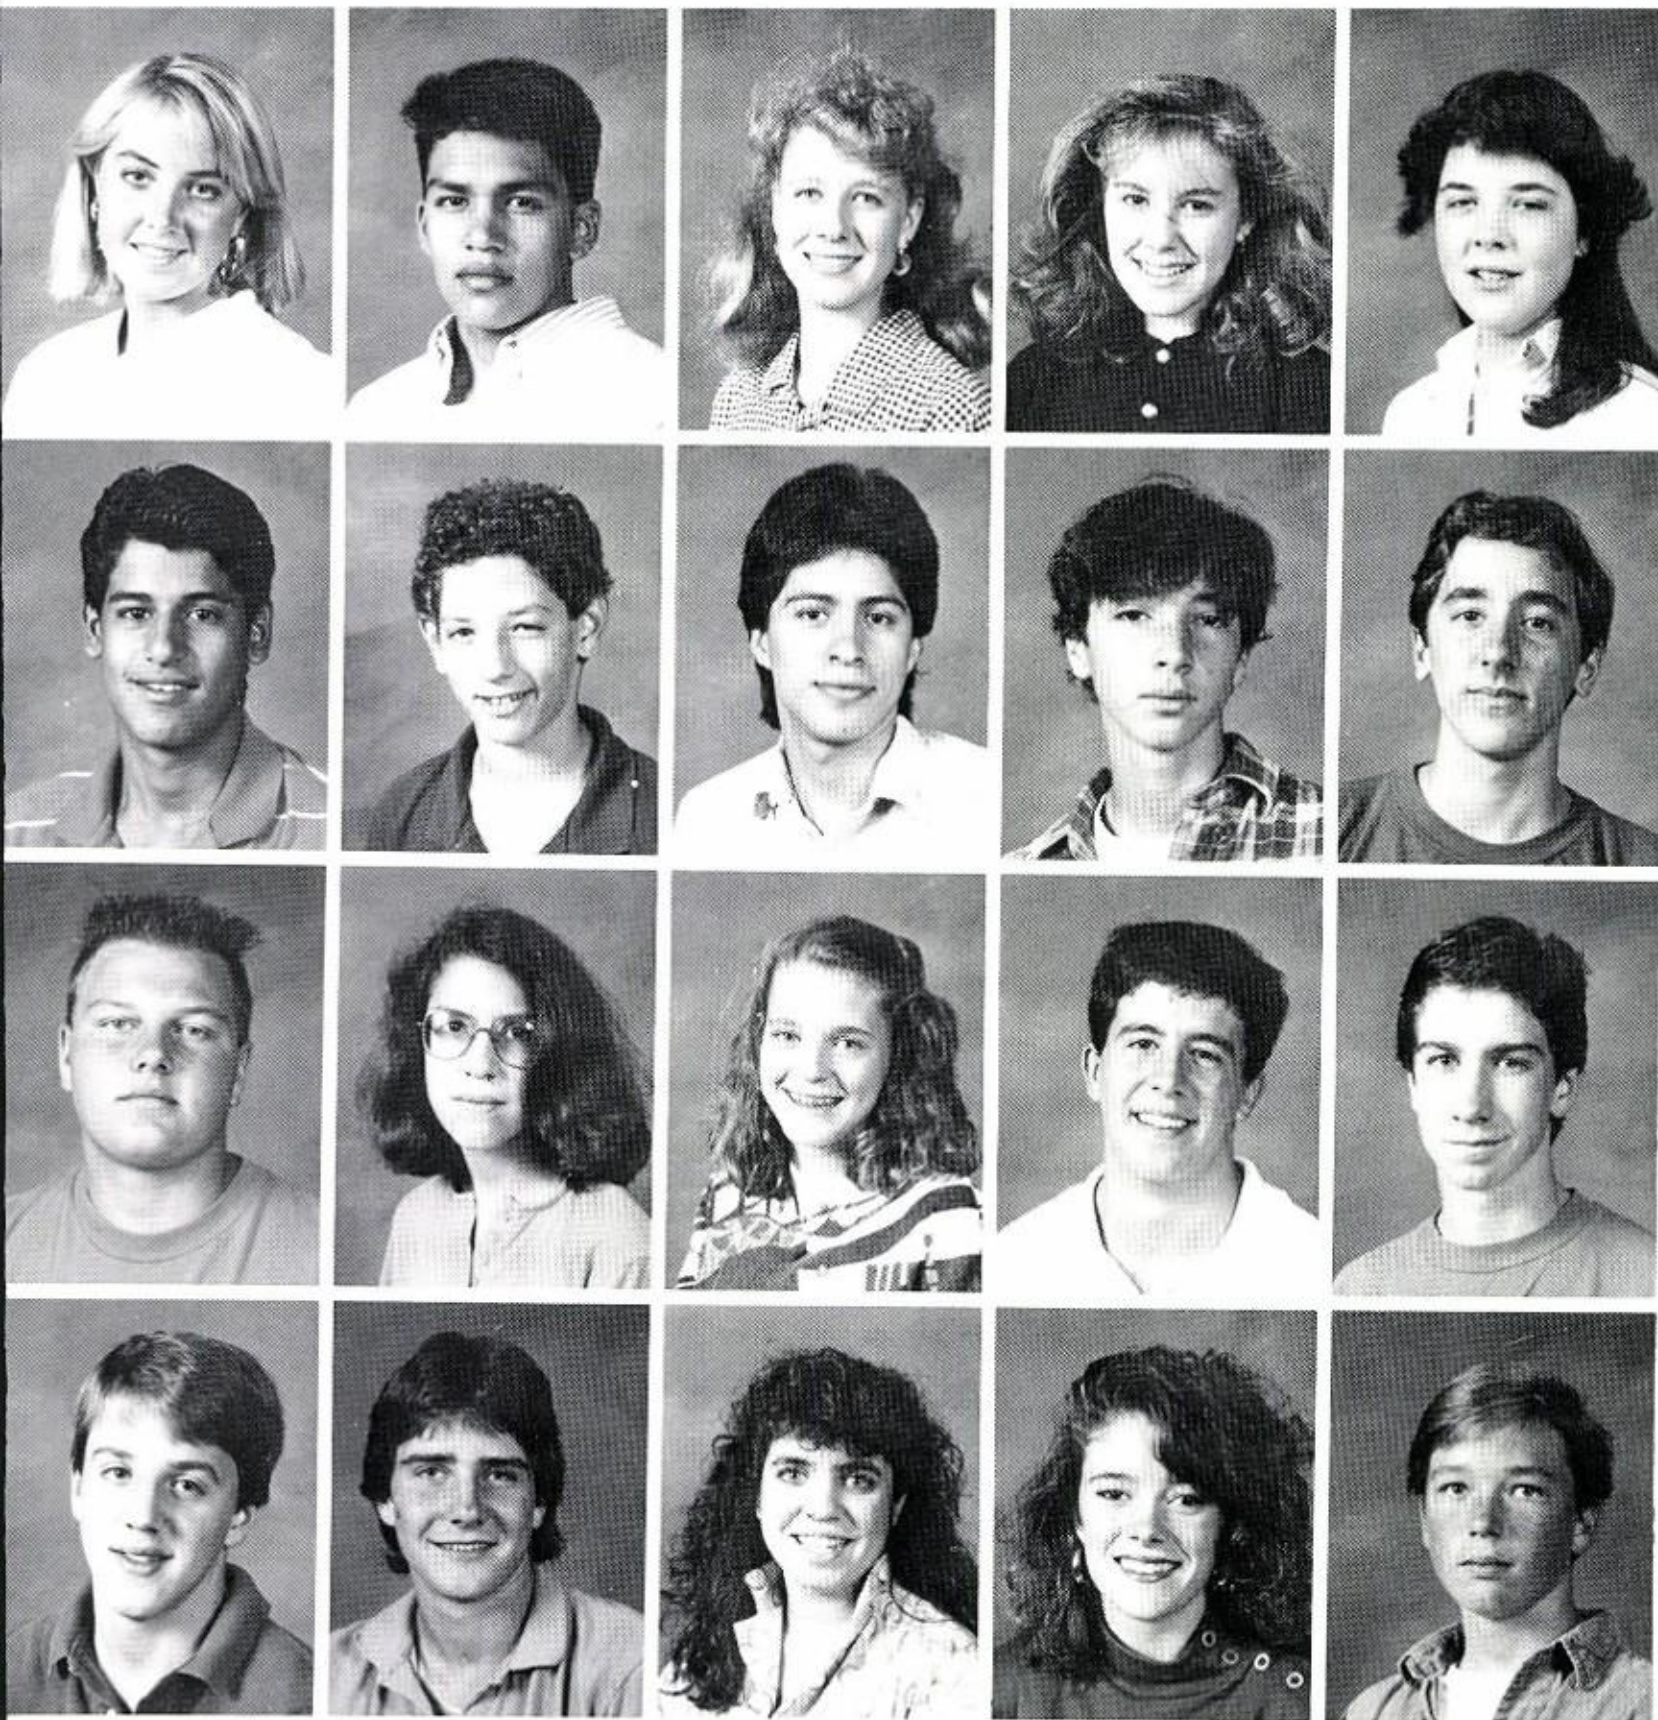

The sophisticated reader will no doubt find all of the above information most beneficial in trying to understand what a sophomore is. No doubt he will have also concluded that the Greeks weren't dummies. They were probably right; a sophomore's got plenty of brains, but he's just killing time till he can figure out what to do with them!

Class of '91 Shows Signs of Leadership

Plenty of hard work, and motivation paid off for the fish this year. Led by their impressive class president, Brandon Raney, progress was achieved early. At Howdy Night, pastries were sold, which produced a handsome profit of over $400.00.

Proceeds from Howdy Night were used to buy Christmas turkeys for the high school janitorial staff. Sponsors Mr. Delbert Rowland and Mr. Charlie Boggess kept the Freshman on track by having them take part in the pooper-scooper program, having a car wash in mid-April, and getting them involved in many other various activities. All in all, the first year for the class of 1991 shaped up to be simply a sign of better things to come.

If not anything else, there is one thing that freshmen do NOT look forward to their first year at Alamo Heights High: THE PIT. Impressions such as big green slimy monsters and giant roaches are their biggest fears; however, their first day proved MOST of these superstitions wrong.

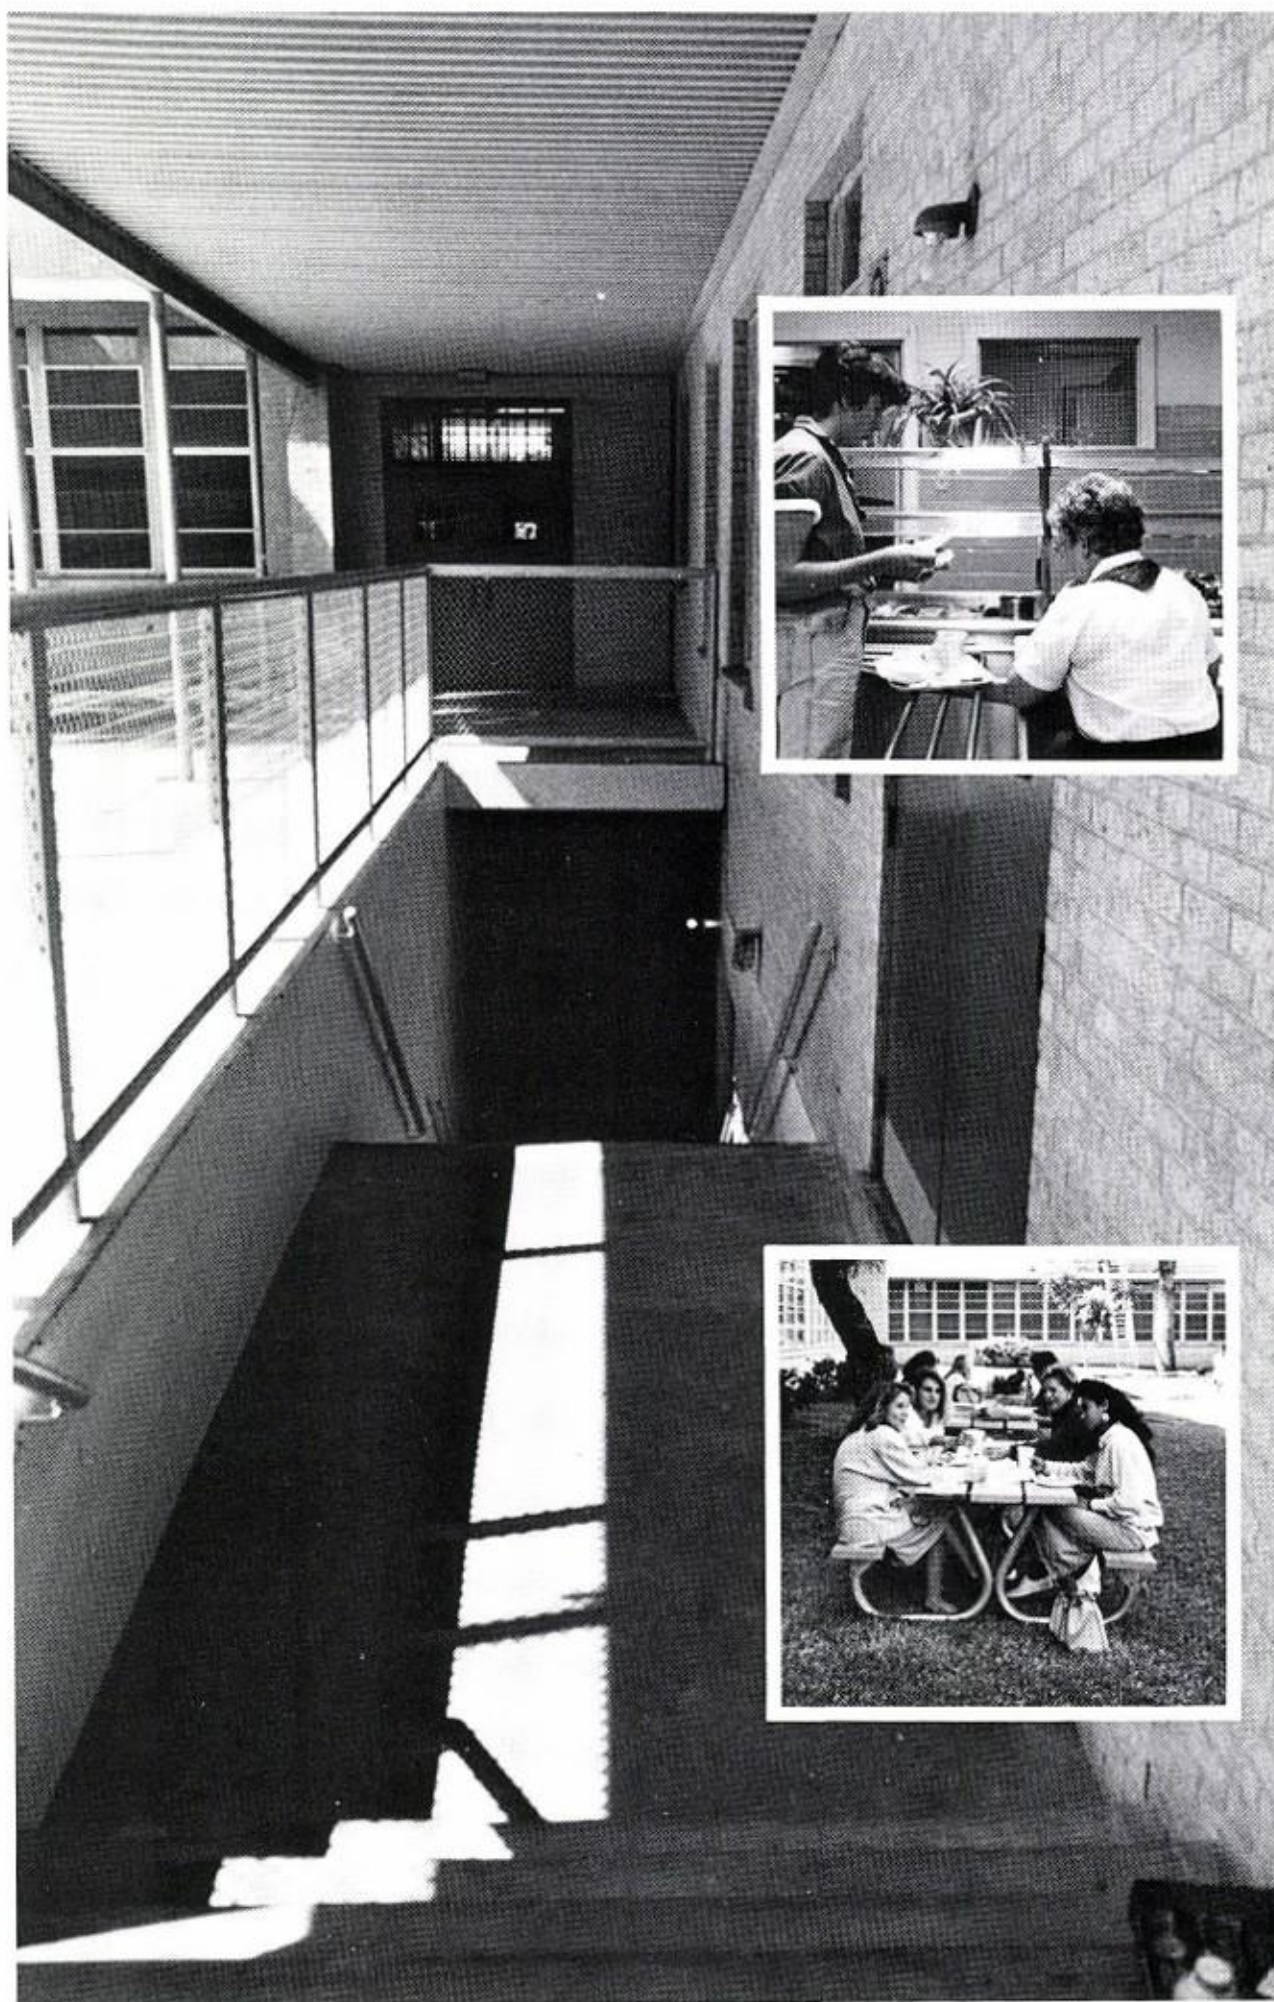

Fourth period is over, and your stomach is growling, so you head to the makeshift cafeteria/fall out shelter. As soon as you open the door, the smell of fish and refried beans meets your nose, and you try to avoid the hot food line. On the way to the snack bar, you get used to the fish, and think the pit isn't so bad after all.

After your candy is in the box, and you've paid your life savings, you're back up the stairs to sit and eat in the comfort of the grass, trees, and ants.

You finish your meal, and head off to fifth period, and prepare to return again, tomorrow.

Freshmen Contributions

The Freshmen class launched many community service projects this school year. At Howdy Night they sponsored the pastry booth which successfully sold a variety of baked goods. During Christmas the Freshmen gave turkeys to A.H. custodians. They also cleaned up downtown Olmos Park. As the official "pooper scoopers" during Fiesta, Freshmen were seen in the Battle of Flowers Parade. The Freshmen class has donated much time and effort to help our community.

Fish At Foot Of Totem Pole

A new beginning! They have not established any credentials to work their way up to the top of the totem pole. There are no beads on their necklaces or scalps on their belts. At the bottom of the totem pole is a young warrior on his first raid; he is fighting against experience.

Freshmen are given much responsibility and privileges, although they can not go off campus for lunch. Freshman Emily Lieb says, "Eating outside is much better compared to being trapped in a cafeteria!"

Strett Jacoby stated, "There is less busy work in high school . . . though the work is harder, it is more meaningful."

"The people are a lot easier to get along with!" Elaina Duggar exclaimed.

Freshmen encounter many new situations and struggle to master them, and experience makes the difference between them and upper-classmen.

Dedication Shows

The Alamo Heights Board of Trustees has been tremendously instrumental in developing our academic, athletic, and motivational direction through their resources and hard work. We feel fortunate to have such devoted leaders who keep the welfare of the faculty, students, and public in focus. The spirit and pride shown in Alamo Heights is a direct result of the Board.

Alamo Heights Bids Welcome To Super Superintendent Dr. Slater

Alamo Heights is extremely fortunate to have chosen a wonderful superintendent, Dr. Charles Slater. He is from Brookline, MA, and is married and has a daughter.

Dr. Slater has three goals to help improve our academic environment. They are to educate all students, to show a need for the arts, and to establish a basis for learning. When Dr. Slater says he wants to broadly educate all students, he means all students: the handicapped, the advanced students, the students who are turned off or have failed school, and the average students. He also feels that the need for arts is just as important as the need for math, history, and science. He would like to bring back the choir, and he is working to accomplish this. Dr. Slater also feels that working with one's hands, as in art, sculpture and woodwork, is equally important. For the third goal, life-long learning, Dr. Slater wants students to learn to write well, as well as to learn a different language. He feels that students are not getting enough practice in writing. Dr. Slater says that students need to write for the rest of their lives, whether it is an essay on a test or a business report. Dr. Slater feels that learning a new language is just as important. He speaks French and is now learning Spanish.

After college, Dr. Slater and his wife, Sandy, joined the Peace Corps and taught English as a foreign language in West Africa. After returning to the states, he received his Master's degree at Occidental College in Los Angeles. Dr. Slater is impressed with the tremendous school spirit of our district, the eagerness to work with others and the positive attitude toward the school.

Welcome to Alamo Heights, Dr. Slater.

Spirit From The Soul

The 1987-88 Band showed much spirit to the Mules this year. The band's intense practice and musical talent enabled them to produce spectacular half-time entertainment. They also enriched the performance of the Spurs by supplying them with a sturdy back-up. Their spirit encouraged others to participate in the excitement of the game by getting involved in the cheers. Their spirit is appreciated by all.

Dedication Brings Rewards

The 1987-88 Spurs have put forth much dedication to bring about great results. After numerous practices they have produced a winning combination. This team brought home a win in the 4-A competition at West Lakes in Austin. They have performed many outstanding routines at our games which have added to the Mule spirit. The Spurs should be commended for their effort as well as their results.

On The Road To Perfection

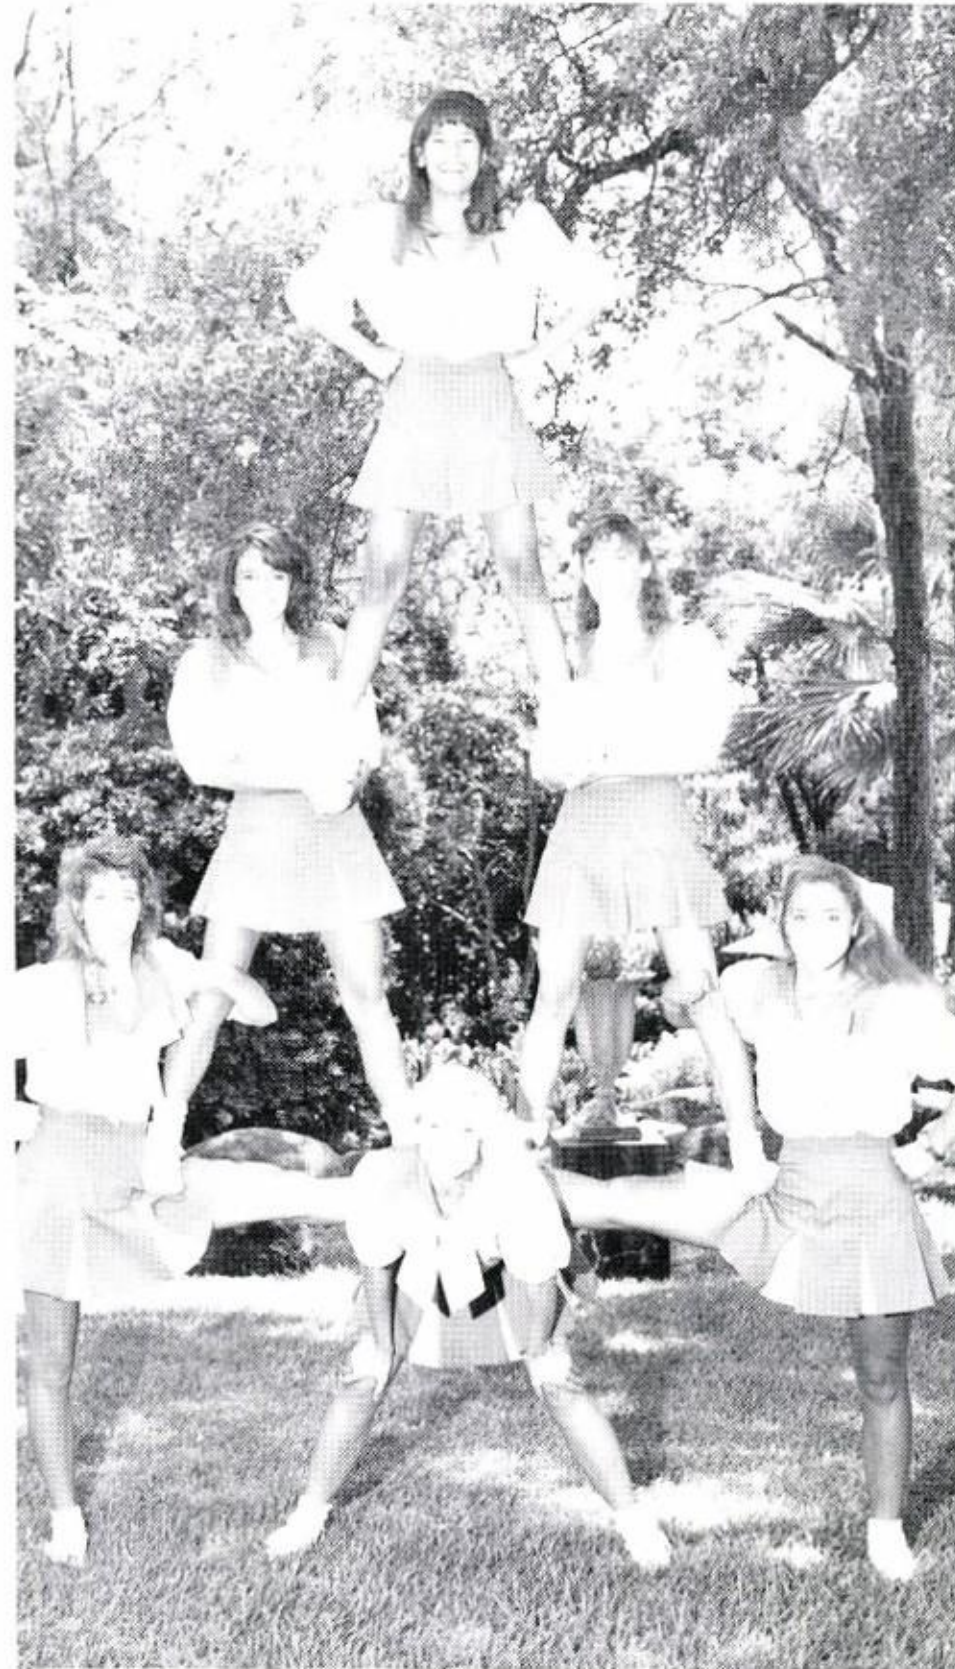

The 1987-88 Freshmen, Junior Varsity, and Varsity Cheerleaders aroused the competitive High School spirit in our student body. They pushed the Mules to work at their potential and to produce victories. Their leadership is not only seen at sports functions, but also at Pep Rallies and other school activities. The Cheerleaders' dedication to the Mules has produced a wonderfully spirited year.

"Being a cheerleader has shown me my leadership abilities as well as my school spirit."

Spirit From The Fish

The 1987-88 Wranglers all have something in common: a dedication of Alamo Heights spirit. They are dedicated to their friends which brings them closer as a group. You can hear their dedicated enthusiasm from the screams and yells coming from the stands. They also show dedication to other school-mates by helping the Spurs in competition. Their dedication has brought them the recognition of the most spirited group of freshmen.

MULES: "If you think you'll lose, you've lost. For out in the world you'll find, success begins with a fellow's will. It's all in the state of mind."

Mules Have Best Year In 4 Decades

The Alamo Heights Mules 1987 Varsity team set their preseason goals at nothing less than a state championship. The team, led by a strong senior class, didn't win the state championship, but may have accomplished more as a group than any other in the history of football at Alamo Heights.

The Mules got off to a fast start, winning their first five games, including a 20-0 victory over regional powerhouse New Braunfels. The Mules had not beaten the state ranked Unicorns in 33 years. But that came to an end as the Mules, led by a swarming defensive unit, manhandled the Unicorns from start to finish.

With a hard-nosed defense and an explosive offense, the Mules were feared by opponents. Defensively the Mules were led in tackles and interceptions by JoJo Starttmiller, but the strength was in the line, led by Luis Villareal, Cliff Paredes, Bobby Nelson, and Raymond Steves. Offensively, the strength was distributed equally among several. Running back Jeremy Caffey scored 12 touchdowns, and Joe Rendon six, while quarterback Jeff Pirluk passed for eight scores. Six of Pirluk's eight touchdowns went to leading receiver JoJo Starttmiller, from 32, 40, 20, 61, 35, and 45 yards. The Pirluk-Starttmiller connection was lethal.

The '87 Mules accomplished a great deal, and the seniors this year can leave knowing they've set this program off in the right direction. Head coach Ralph Harris described them at length. "This senior class has been involved in the turnaround of this program. In four years they've seen a football program go from low participation, low self esteem, very low winning percentage, to evolve into a solid program with solid community support, greatly increased participation. It's now one of the more competitive programs in this part of the state."

The list of accomplishments is long: the first eight win season in 40 years. The first back-to-back playoff appearances, as well as the best back-to-back records (7-4, 8-3) ever. The Mules lost in the Bi-District round of the playoffs, but it was the second year in a row to make it. The Mules, for the first time ever, had two 1,000 yard players. Quarterback Jeff Pirluk passed for 1,017 yards, and Jeremy Caffey rushed for 1,018 yards. Four Mules made 1st Team All-District. Bill Armstrong at linebacker, Cliff Paredes at defensive tackle, Luis Villareal at offensive and defensive tackle, and JoJo Starttmiller at wide receiver, defensive back, and return specialist.

1987 was a great year for the Alamo Heights program, and will be remembered for a very long time for the great success.

JoJo Starttmiller (FS/WR, 5'9", 160) JoJo Starttmiller's list of accomplishments this season reads like a novel. Starttmiller was one of the biggest team leaders in the group. His attitude on and off the field was highly respected by teammates and opponents. JoJo shared the team captain duties with Jeff Pirluk which shows respect from both the team and the coaches. He led the team in receiving on offense and accumulated the most tackles for the defense. For his performance on the field, JoJo was named to the 1st-Team All District 14-4A in three positions. He was a unanimous choice for defensive back, while also making 1st-Team wide receiver and return specialist. Starttmiller was named to the city's sub-5A 1st Team on defense and 2nd team on offense. JoJo plans to continue his career in college.

Joe was the big play man for the Mules, as he scored six touchdowns, five on runs of 42, 17, 70, 15, and 65 yards, and a punt return of 77 yards against New Braunfels. He was also the Mules 2nd leading receiver.

"Never Die" Attitude Characterizes '87 J.V.

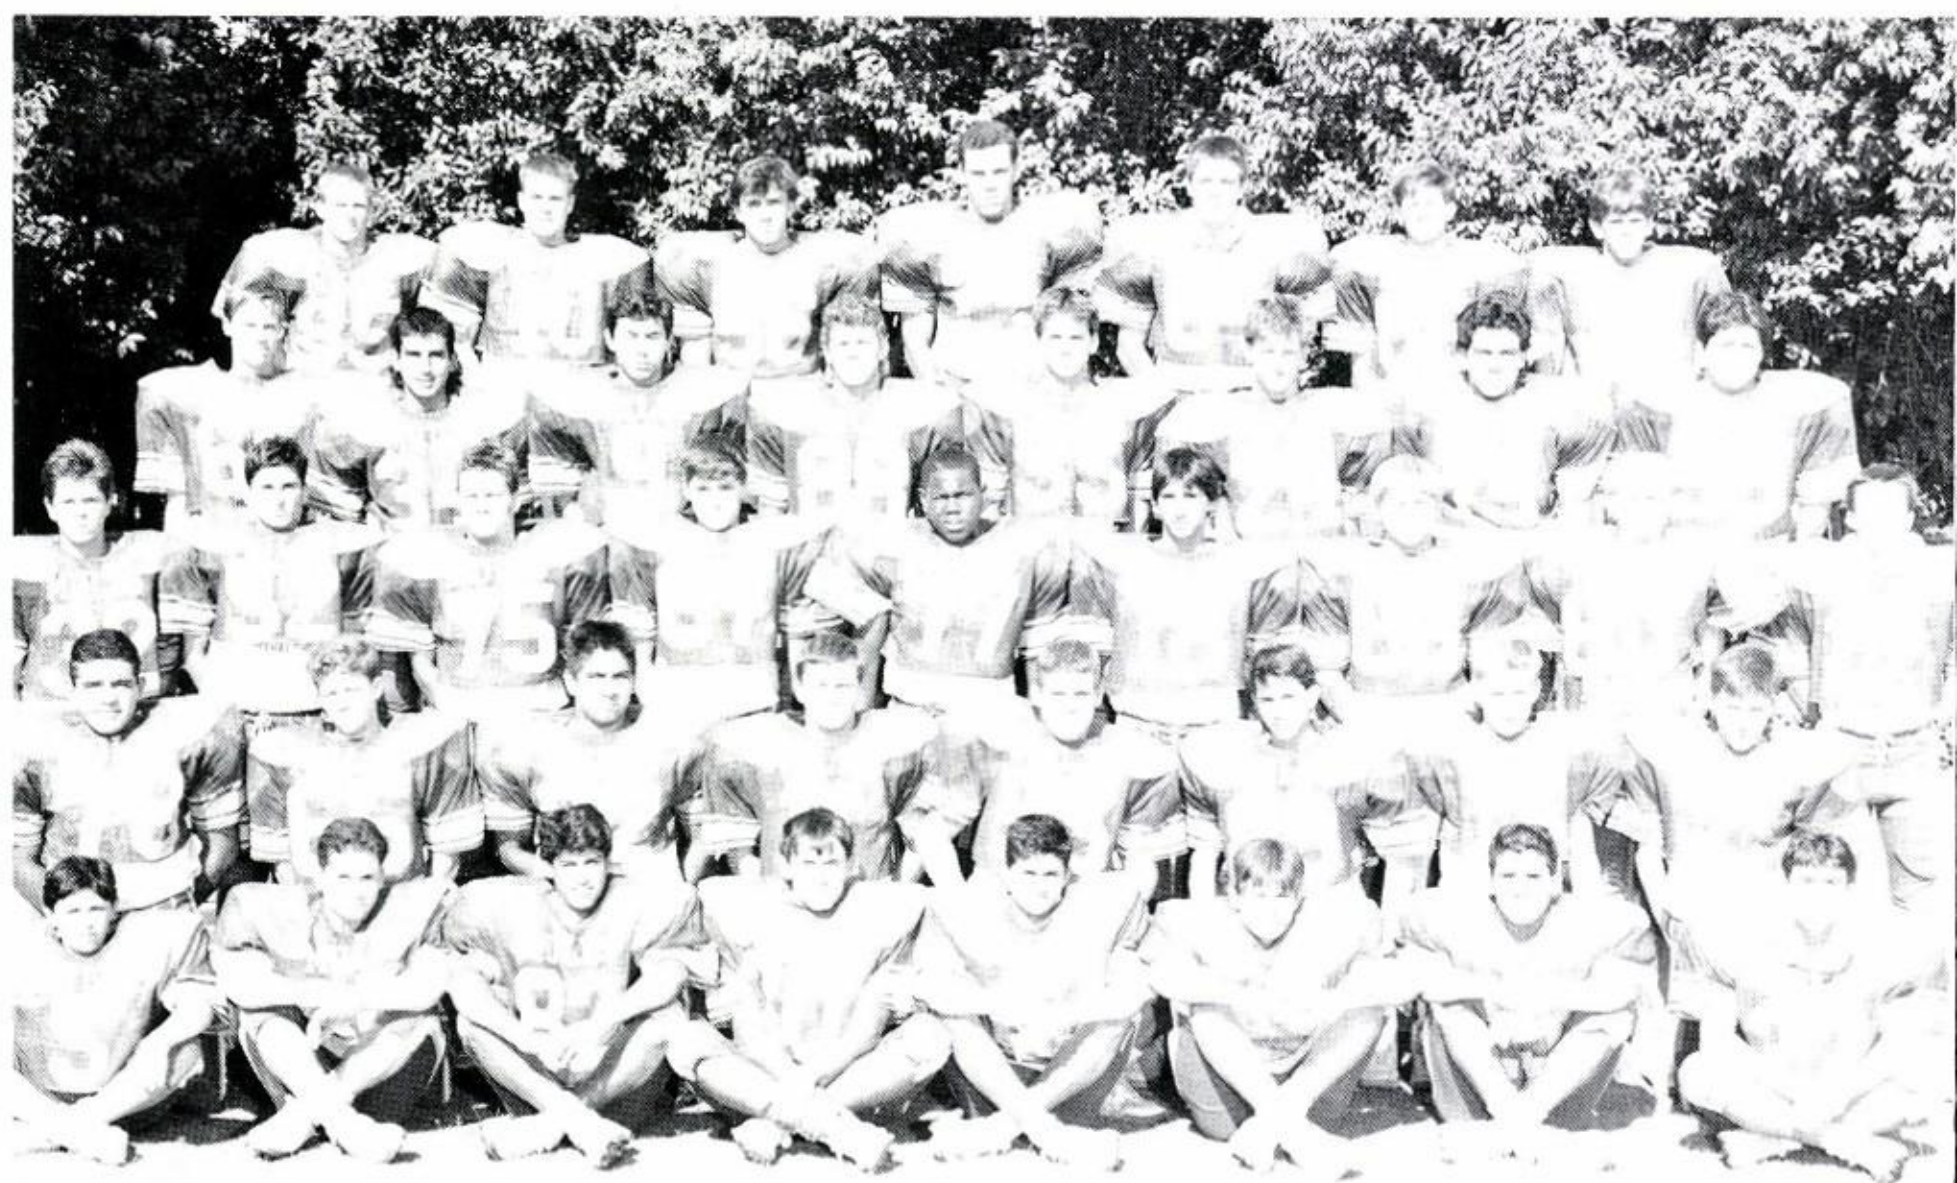

The 1987 J.V. football team finished the year with a strong 5-2-1 record. Led by a strong, ruthless defense that kept opposing teams in place and offense that rose to the occasion when it needed to, the Mules established a never say die reputation. Coach Mark Hewitt characterized the group as "... a team that never refuses to die," referring to the number of players lost to the varsity and the team's refusal to give up. "These kids just kept pulling and working harder whenever a teammate got moved up," Coach Dave Foerster added.

The Mule J.V.'s played three undefeated teams and handed them all their first loss. Their most outstanding game came against a tough and undefeated Jourdan team. The defense played outstanding in stifling the explosive offense of their opponent, stopping them several times on crucial plays in their own territory. It was up to the offense, though, to get some points up on the board for the victory, and as they had done before, they came through for the game-winning 8 to 0.

This J.V. team shows the strength that the Alamo Heights program is beginning to consistently have year in and year out. The future is bright at Alamo Heights.

Freshman Squad Has Bright Future

The 1987 freshman football team combined a strong defense with an explosive offense for an 8-2 record and one of the most successful campaigns for a freshman team ever at Alamo Heights. Considered by many to be the most balanced team ever here, the freshmen came in to high school not hoping to win but expecting to.

The freshmen's strength was in their offense. An aggressive, explosive style allowed this team to run up big scores and be able to score from anywhere on the field. The offense averaged 23.3 points per game. They were solid in every position and quite diversified as they could execute both the run and the pass.

The defense, as well, was quite strong. They kept opponents' yardage at a low and forced many turnovers to give the ball back to the offense.

Their exemplary attitude made the boys very coachable. They worked extra hard to learn the system. "These kids are very coachable. They had one thing in mind when they came up here — to win.

They weren't out here for themselves, they were a unit," one coach said to describe the team. The freshmen are a sign of the success this football program will have in the future. Strength is in numbers, and this is one of the biggest turnouts in a long time. Forty-five to fifty kids made the commitment to excellence and that's what a strong program needs to get stronger.

The future is bright at Alamo Heights.

Mules Continue Winning Tradition

The 1987-1988 Alamo Heights Mules basketball team continued the rich tradition that this school has experienced for years. For the third year in a row the Mules entered the playoffs as the 14-4A district champion. This year's team finished the regular season at 28-3, with a district mark at 15-1.

The Mules swept through three tournaments, terrorizing their foes and coming home with two Consolation Championships and a first place finish at their own Alamo Heights Invitational Tournament. Rob Stevens, a senior wing, was named the tournament MVP at the Muledome.

Coach Charlie Boggess characterized his team as "dedicated to the idea of fundamentals and steady play which was the key to our success. They had a very good work ethic in practice. They worked on the little parts of the game.

"These kids are a very close group on and off the court. They have great respect for each other and those traits have manifested in quite a few games."

Much of the success of this year's team can be attributed to team defense, rebounding, and free throw shooting, in which the Mules led the city.

The team had no real offensive star. "The leading scorers changed often as the box score changed," Boggess commented. "That shows the unselfishness of this team."

A lot of credit also has to go to the bench. "This year we had better depth and could utilize more people," Boggess said.

The team was nowhere short of great, being ranked in the city and state top 10. It all goes to show that the 1988 Mules were GREAT.

J.V. Mules Sweep Through District

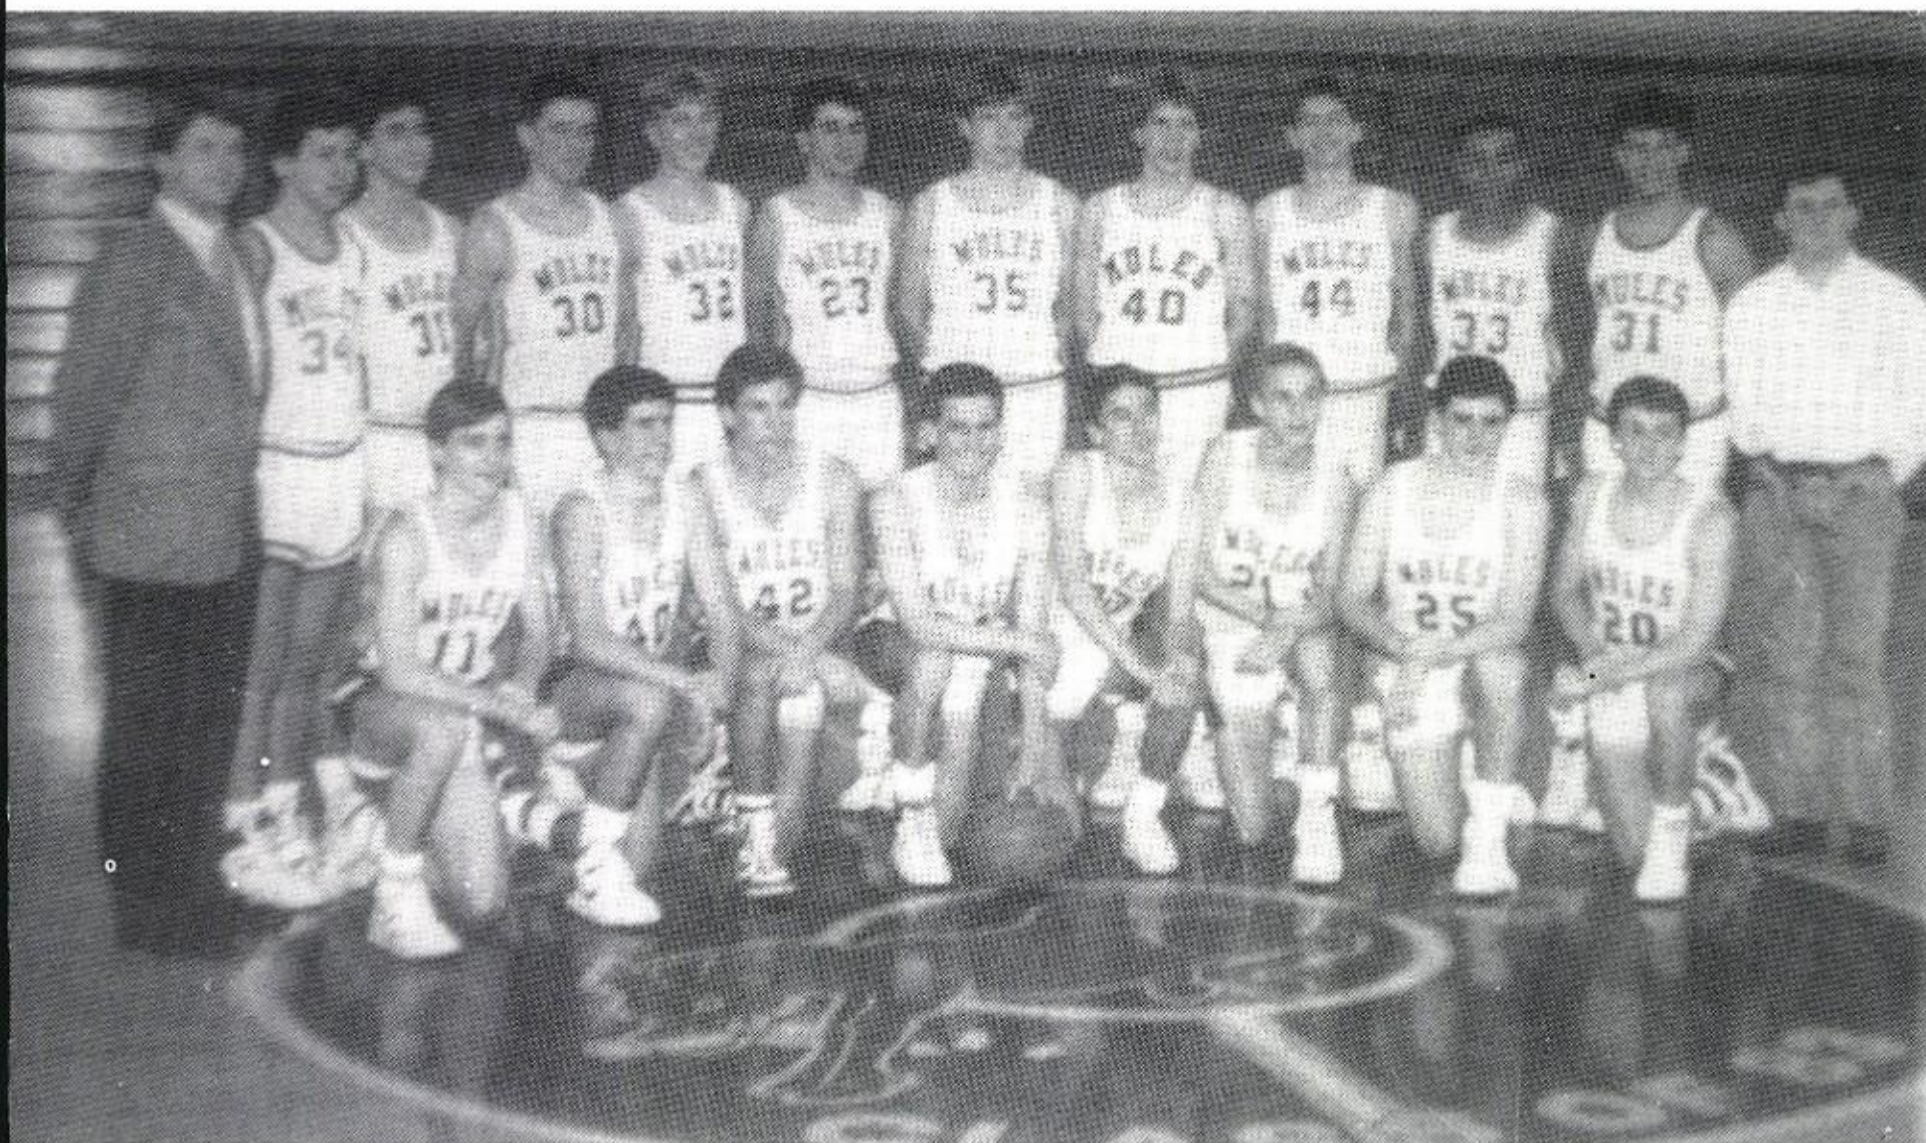

The 1987-88 J.V. Mules had one thing in mind going into the season, and that was to come out of it as successful as past years. That goal was accomplished and again in a big way.

A 22-2 season record alone shows the kind of year these boys had. Sweeping through district with a 16-0 record for the fourth straight year set them up for their biggest game of the year: A final test against the Austin J.V. champs, Austin Lanier. Trailing by 10 at halftime, the Mules paced their way through the second half and cut the lead to four with under a minute remaining. Kevin Mellor hit a long 3-pointer with 16 seconds to go, and then pressure defense got the ball back into the Mules' hands for one last shot. Trey Hicks answered with a twelve footer at the buzzer to win it.

"The team played with a lot of determination the whole year," Coach Randy Schuster said. "They had a great attitude, and they were just great competitors throughout the whole year." Schuster also commented on how rewarding it is for him to coach kids like the ones he had this year.

Well-Balanced Freshmen Finish Second

This year's Freshman basketball team showed great promise in finishing second in a very tough district. The loop consisted of East Central, San Marcos, Seguin, and two teams from Judson. The Mules were the runner-up to Seguin.

Coach Bob Foster characterized this group as well-balanced and hard working. The team was led in scoring by Crane Canavan, Trevor Bain, and David Peavy with solid play also coming from Chip Lutz.

The Mules established their presence in the district by going on a six game winning streak early after Christmas. "That streak," Coach Foster felt, "was the main reason we finished in second place."

There is definitely great promise for this group of Freshmen. Coach Foster feels we may be seeing some of these players helping the Varsity as soon as next year.

Boys Cross Country Varsity Runners Take District

For the third year in a row the Mules Cross Country team captured the district crown. The Boys Varsity Cross Country Team achieved success through their hard work and dedication. Their countless hours of running resulted in a district championship and a fourth place finish in the regional meet, just missing qualification for the state meet by six points. In addition to this, John Worsham and Don Redmond ran the Austin Marathon. The team captains were Greg Tucker and Paul Clifton.

With a portion of the competition in the 5A level, it was tough running this year. GOOD JOB, GUYS!!!

Girls Win District: On To Regionals

The girls varsity cross country runners put forth a lot of extra effort and hard work and won the district championship this season. Coach Bruce Fink along with the team captains, Michelle Brame and Paige Bonner, helped push the team on to regionals. A combination of neat and fast competition helped the team's success. Top runner Violet Gracia contributed her best to the team with her outstanding times. Intense workouts and hard training not only helped produce a first place finish in district but also many other strong performances for the girls cross country team. With Carey Carnahan, Erina Duganne, Michelle Brame, Violet Gracia and Beth Cornett returning next year, the team should most definitely have another victorious season in the year of 1988-1989. The girls varsity cross country team will probably not only be district champs next year but will also have a good chance at placing high in regionals.

Tennis

VARSITY TENNIS TEAM DOMINATES AGAIN

The Alamo Heights Varsity Tennis Team once again has shown dominance over its opposition with their hard work and training. The Mules' constant motivation helped finish the season with a 13-4-1 final record and 10-game winning streak.

Capturing the state title for the second consecutive year wasn't easy, but the Netters were fortunate to have not lost many players from last year.

"We only lost our Nos. 6 players, and our No. 1 girl player. Everybody else came back. However, winning is easier said than done. Our players were intent on continuing to work hard and improving."

"Our kids set a goal to be as good as the 5A teams. Getting good enough to beat the 5A schools enabled us to reach the height we have," said Coach Larry Oxford.

The Mules had two victories over Lee, and one over Churchill, Clark, and Roosevelt.

The Girls Varsity Tennis team ended with a 157-40 singles record winning 79.7% of their matches. Their 130-61 record in doubles left them with the average of wins at 68.1%. Janna Byrd, Ann Flannery, Stacy Baker, Dottie Huntress, Holly Hensey, Sara McCamish, Kimmy Amstutz, Catherine Browning, and Tonya Young were some of the major contributors on the girls team.

The Boys Varsity Tennis team finished with a 137-65 singles record and 122-66 record in doubles. Top two players, Jamie Malakoff and Trent Harkrader, led the team to a victory for the singles and doubles state crown. Other strong assets to the boys team were Dain Dreyer, Werner Keidel, Holt Vaughan, Trey Willerson, Brad Simpson, Brian Maebius, and Cuatro Groos.

"The kids really like the team aspect and they like playing for their school," commented Coach Larry Oxford.

In Oxford's 14 years at Heights, the team has won three state team titles. They have finished second seven times.

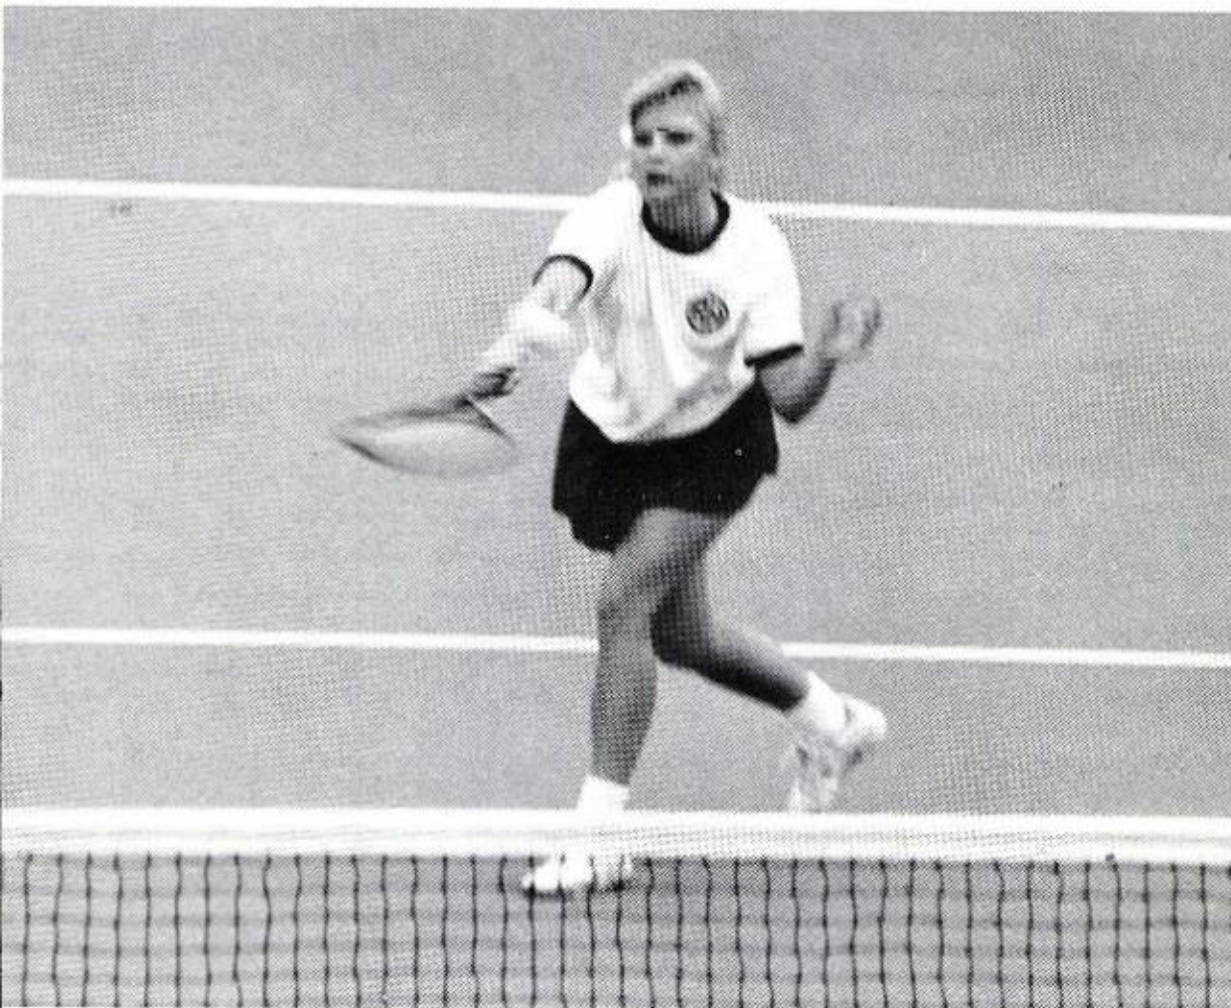

Even though next year is going to be a lot of hard work, due to the loss of so many top players, with the good coaching and the extra effort put forth by the remaining players the tennis team will hopefully bring Heights a third consecutive state title.

Netters Win Second Straight Team Title

Alamo Heights has seen this somewhere before. Let's see . . . Oh yeah, last year.

The Mules came out kicking, grabbing an edge in doubles action, and taking the wind out of Lancaster to win their second straight state class 4A tennis team title.

Heights' 14-4 mastery of Lancaster seemed particularly uniform when compared to the Mules' 15-3 margin of victory in the 1986 tournament.

"Going into it, you never know what to expect. You're always very leery at first. I felt confident with my game, though," said senior Trent Harkrader.

Coach Larry Oxford commended the No. 1 doubles team, Jamie Malakoff and Trent Harkrader.

"They have played in state finals four years in a row. They were second their freshmen and sophomore years and the champs their junior and senior years. They know what it's all about. They know how to prepare, and that carries over to their teammates," said Coach Larry Oxford.

As expected for the girls, the two top players, junior Ann Flannery and sophomore Jana Byrd both win their matches and it was over at 9-1.

"The team wasn't content to rest on the talent they had last year. They all kept improving and building," said Coach Oxford.

For Heights, it was hard to lose this season, period.

JV Works To An Undefeated Season

The Alamo Heights Junior Varsity team has a very promising future with their 8-0 final record. Each of the players worked extra hard and truly dedicated themselves to the team.

Strong assets for the girls team included Meredith Fulron, Maurie Scott, Amy Srringer, and Katie Foster.

Individual efforts by Dustin Hicks, Derek Thompson, Rick Johnson, and John Beach, contributed to the boys team.

The junior netters dominated Marshall (12-8), crushed Corpus Christi King (10-0), and skimmed over Lee (19-5). Everyone played to his best ability and accomplished an outstanding record.

Since the team consisted of mostly freshmen and sophomores, this year's junior varsity team was credited by Coach Larry Oxford with lots of improvement and he expects next year's team to be even stronger.

The players enjoyed representing the Mules and were very motivated to be the very best they could be.

The future looks very bright for the team and could most likely add good players to the Varsity team next season.

With several strong swimmers returning to this year's team, the boys looked promising. Team members looked forward to a successful season. Individuals who propelled the Mules toward victory were seniors David Galbreath, Scott Parel, David Bettio, and Garrett Davis. Also contributing to the push were Bauchy Newborn, Bart Bolfrass, and John Case. Team efforts resulted in a fourth place victory in the San Antonio City Championship. Fourth place was also taken in the Holiday Inn Invitational. Many dual meets resulted in wins for Alamo Heights. Under the leadership of Coach Jim Yares, the Mules anticipated challenging and interesting opponents. Some of the teams encountered were Clark, Marshall, and Taft.

Girls Pool Their Efforts

The girls' team was hampered by a lack of swimmers, but each member was extremely dedicated and worked very hard to overcome the 5A schools the team competed against.

Top team members Joye Harris, Debora Kocurek, and Tracy Holbrook helped the team reach its final standings.

the city final competing against some of the roughest schools in the 5A region. Returning senior Debora Kocurek aided the team with her diving skills as well as her swimming efforts which qualified the girls for district.

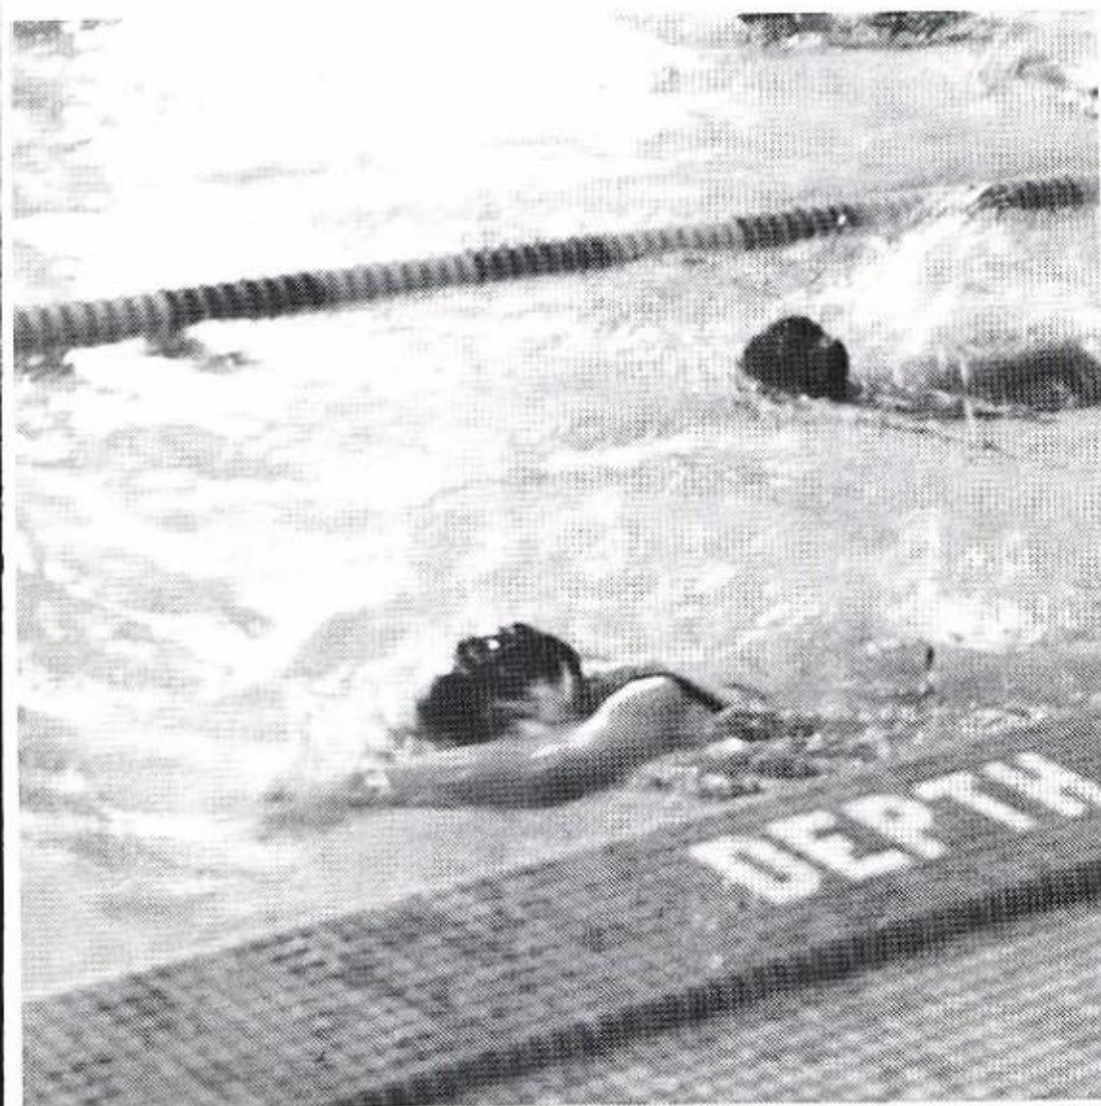

Even though the team was hurt because of ineligibility, Coach Yares gave the girls credit for working hard during the season.

Below: Coach Jim Yares gives instructions and encouragement to his team.

Because of a previous rule change, a fourth place finish in the Regional Water Polo tournament was no longer good enough to qualify for the state playoffs. The Mules ended strongly with a successful year, playing all 5-A teams.

Leading Alamo Heights were Seniors Scott Parel, David Berrio, Garrett Davis, and goalie Egan Little. Also playing were Schyler Barey, Ned Wells, Bauchy Newburn, John Case, and Bart Bolfrass. Scott Parel was named to All-Region and All-State while Bauchy Newburn and David Berrio made All-Region.

The Mules faced some very difficult competition this season. Some schools played included Clark, Marshall, and Taft.

Runners Hope To Better '87 Mark

The 1988-89 Mule track team has one goal: to finish better than their 3rd place finish last year. Competing in one of the roughest districts in South Texas doesn't make things easier, but the Mules feel they can do it.

With returners like Joe Rendon, Jojo Startmiller, Jeff Pirluck, and Jeremy Caffey to pace the sprinters, that aspect of the team appears to be strong. Those four will probably make up the sprint relay while Rendon will also compete in the 100m. Startmiller will also compete in the 100m, the mile relay, and the long jump. Pirluck and Caffey will both take their speed to other events such as the 200m and the 400m, respectively.

Luis Villareal will be a strong contender in the shot put and discus. Cuatro Groos and Mike Corbett will both move into track with Groos running long distance and Corbett running the quarter and the mile relay.

This year's team may not have the numbers, but it will be hard to beat.

Girls Track

Girls Track Shows Promise

With returning letterman Erina Duganne, Heather Hayes, April Humphries, Paige Bonner, and Cory Russell, the team hopes to repeat their first place finish at district this season.

Individual expertise lay with Tammy Zapata and April Humphries who were both extremely strong assets to the girls track team this year.

Team strengths were shown in the sprint relay, mile relay, and overall distance running.

The top-notch varsity 400m relay team will consist of Jeanene English, Tifini Roberts, Heather Hayes, and Libby Bebinger.

Standouts in the mile relay are still undecided because of ineligibility but will most likely have strong runners such as Cory Russell and Paige Bonner.

Top ranked distance runners are Tammy Zapata, April Humphries, and Paige Bonner.

New freshmen like Becky Martin and Gretchen Jones are very helpful on the J.V. team.

The Mule Relays in late February will put the Mule runners up against the tough 5A schools such as Lee, Fox Tech, Clark, Jefferson, and Marshall, as well as district foes, Edgewood and Memorial.

Volleyball

Varsity Places 4th In District

Varsity girls showed tremendous improvement this season. Their 7-9 record compared to last year's 3-13 was due to the team's spirit and dedication. Top players Tammy Zapata and April Humphries were awarded honor in All-district with Zapata as second team spiker and Humphries as second team server. Coach Lee Anne Everett presented the girls with competitions among themselves this year. The 7 Club award was given to players who scored seven points or more in one game. These players were Laura Ramirez and April Humphries. The Century Club winners were chosen for those who scored 100 points in a season. This included Cathy Poiner, Tammy Zapata, April Humphries, and Laura Ramirez. The ace-spiker and the ace-servers were players that scored the most non-returnable spikes or serves. The ace-spiker was April Humphries and the ace-servers were Tammy Zapata and April Humphries. Everett was an excellent coach and she really encouraged the girls to be the best they could be. Although the Girls Varsity volleyballers had limited success this year, their opponents found them decidedly tough to beat. The future for volleyball looks very bright. With the Spikers' same determination and effort they put forth this year, next season will be even stronger.

JV'ers: Close Games, Good Spirit

J.V. Spikers finished this season with a 6-17 record. Even though depth was lacking in the Mules, the girls proved their strength by beating large teams such as Uvalde 7-15, 15-7 and 15-5. They played good, hard games and put forth their best effort. Top scorer Amanda Hayes, scoring 111 points, greatly helped the team this season. The seven club honors included Diana Toney, Mirra Alvarez, Kelly Ross, Amanda Hayes and Lies-bet Tausch. Ace spikers and servers were Kelly Ross and Amanda Hayes. "Good spirit and determination helped this teamwork," said Coach Lee Anne Everett. The girls' attitude grew stronger as the season grew better. Everett said the future looks good for these girls because of their "commendable attitude and effort." Lacking experience in their tournament play, the J.V. girls concentrated on practicing skills and individual talent. "We all became very close in practice and in tournaments which really helped our game since we communicated better with each other," said sophomore captain, Amanda Hayes. Their valid attempt at having a winning season created an atmosphere that bonded the girls' spirit to insure a victorious team for next year.

Freshmen Show Best Effort

Despite the lack of experience, the freshmen volleyball squad grew in both enthusiasm and skill during the 1987 season.

These skills were practiced daily through fundamentals and drills. These stressed serving, spiking, and setting.

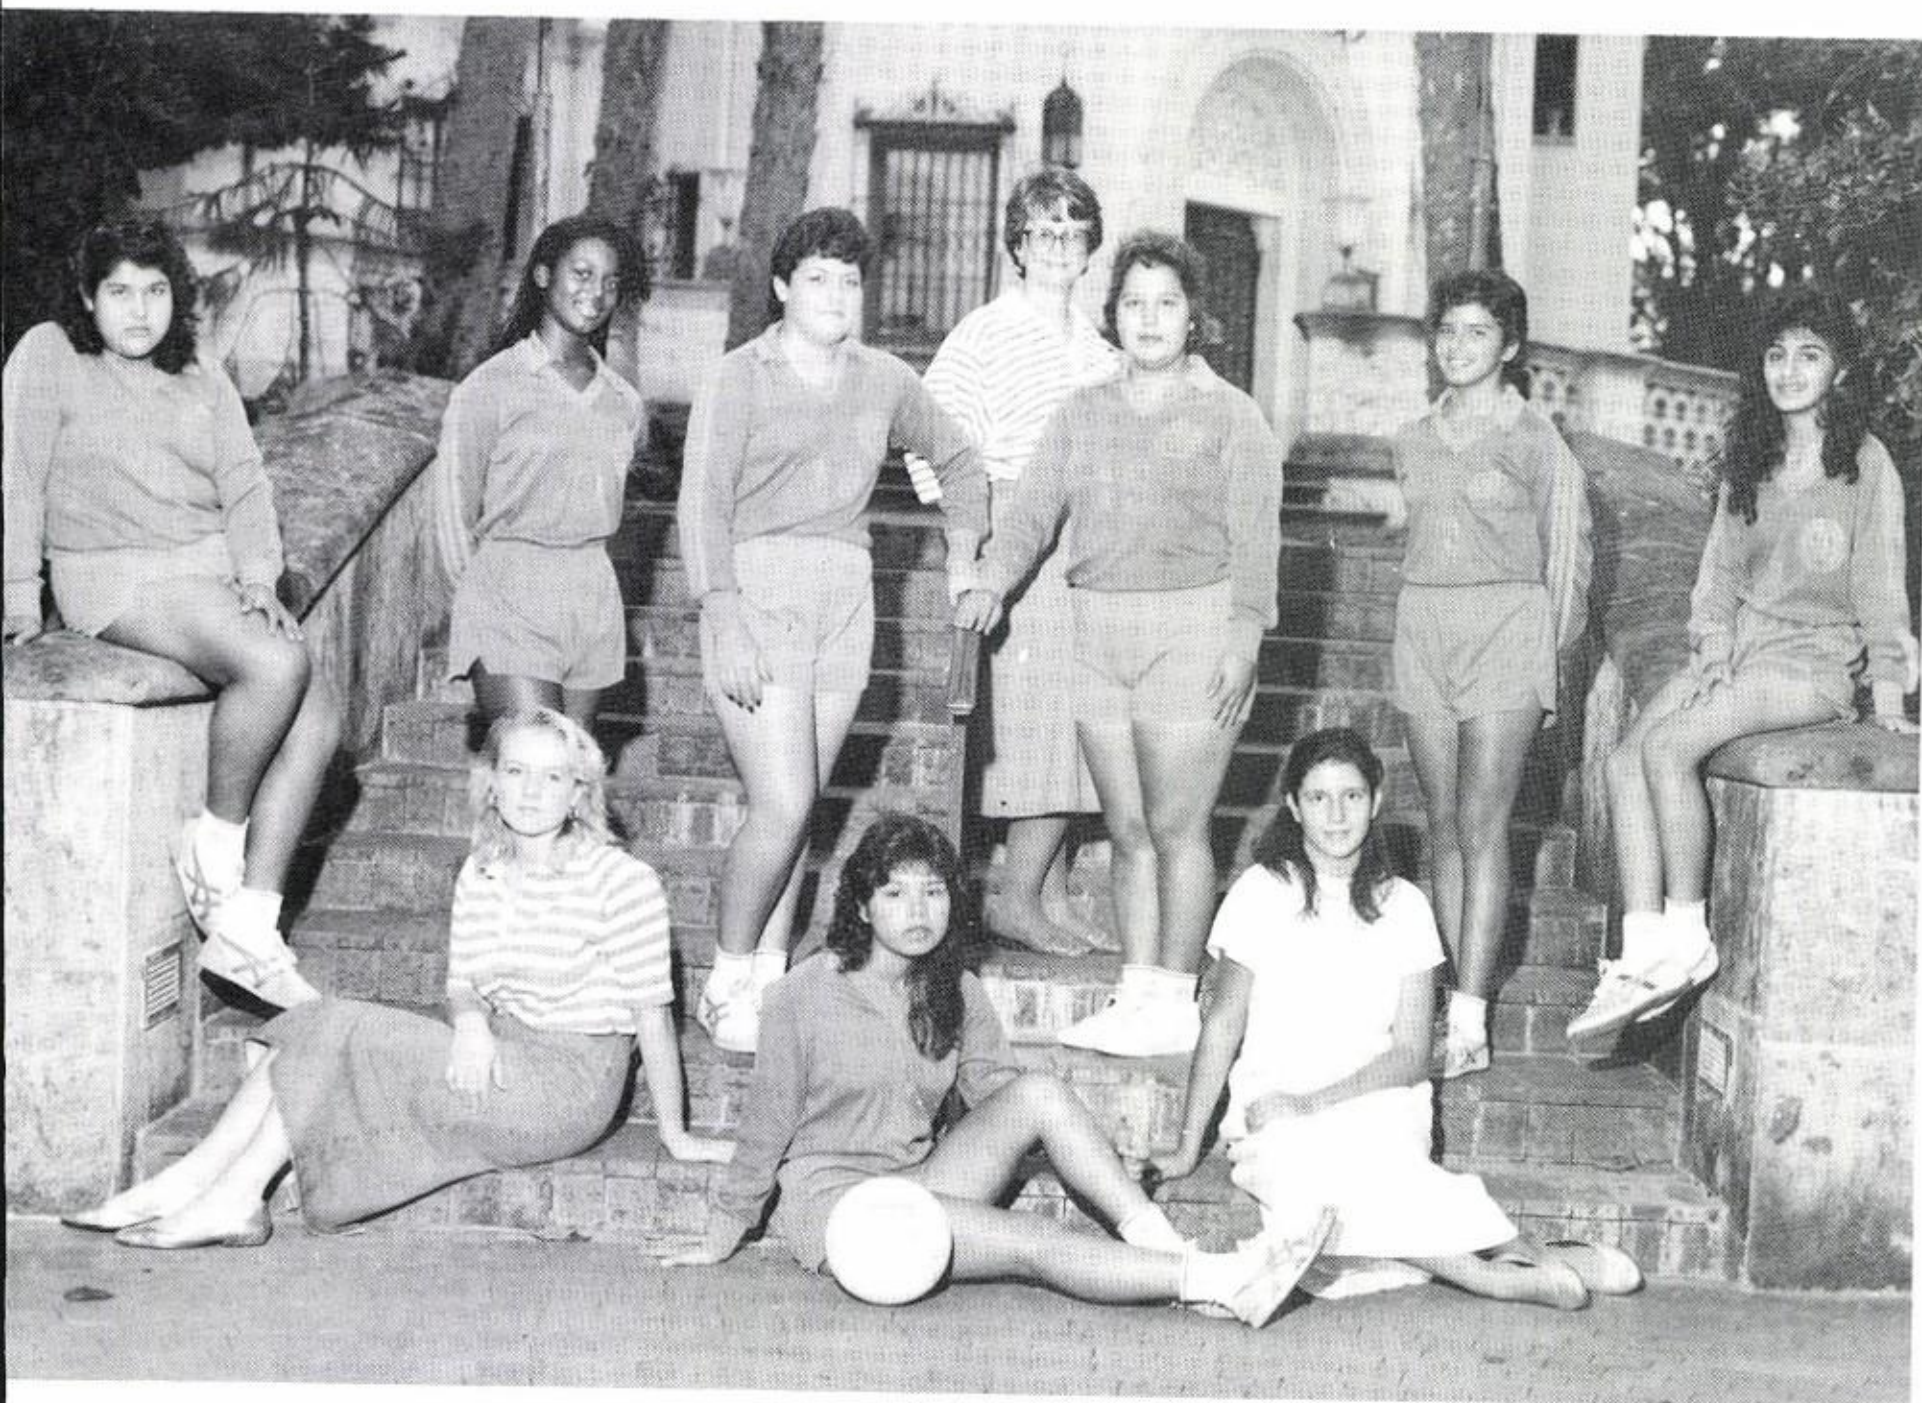

Best game, according to Coach Lee Anne Everett, was the victory over Carrizo Springs. She felt although this could not be termed a victorious season, the improvement the girls showed in this game made the team effort a "winner."

Top scorer Jessica Perez contributed her best and was also named ace-server. The 7 Club awards were presented to Violet Gracia and Rosemin Daya. They both scored seven or more points consecutively in one game.

Although the team's record 1-15 did not show it, the members really progressed during their season. The girls have great potential and with more experience and practice, their ability will next season be recognized.

The golf team had a lot of potential for this year. In the SAISD Tournament, they earned 13th place in which 50 entrants consisted mainly of 5A teams. The Mules also finished a respectable 5th place in the Marador Classic.

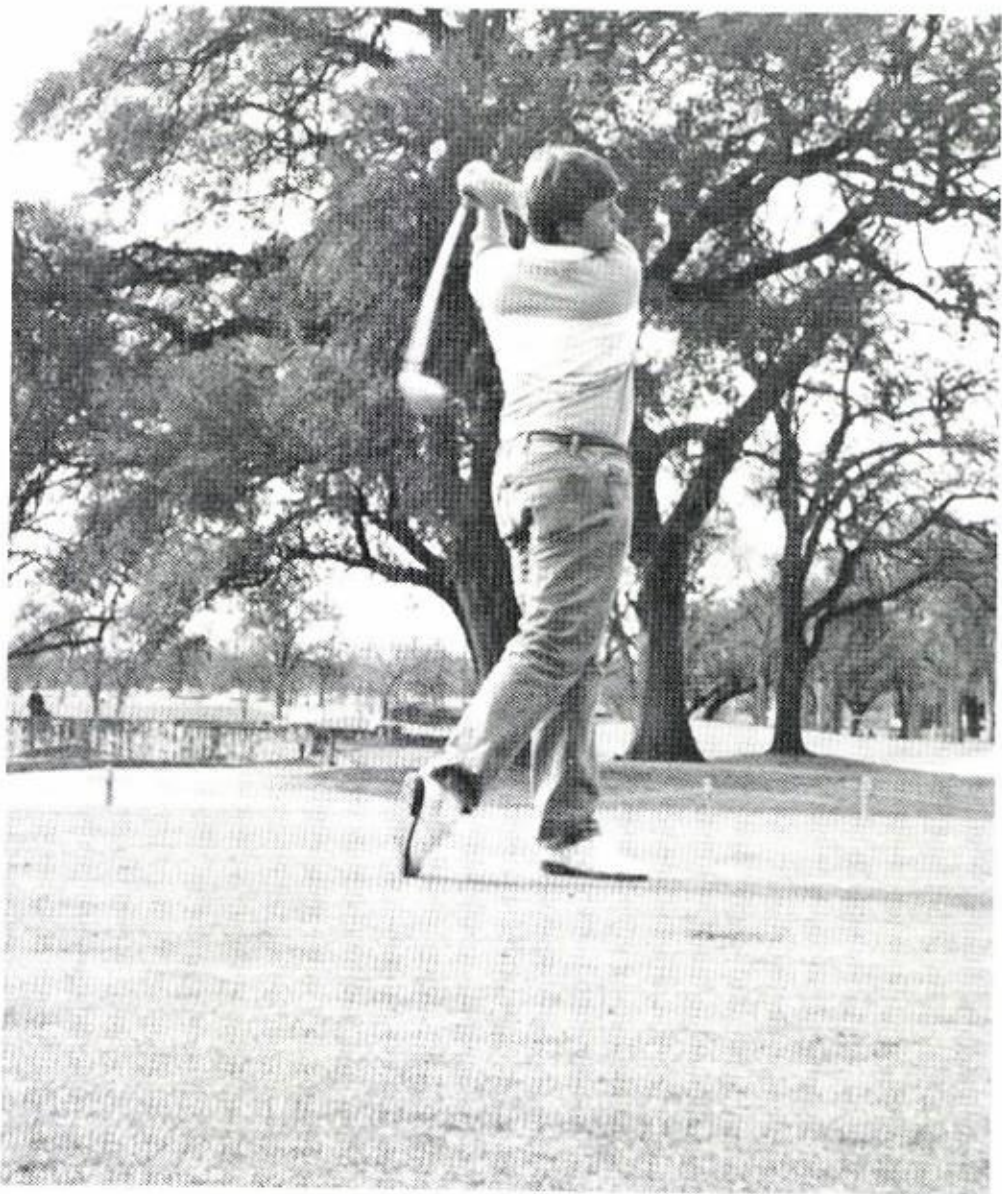

The boys team was led by Seth Bell, Tom Gorham, Chris Dewer and Jeremy Poyo. Also contributing to Alamo Heights success were Jeff Herrick and newcomers Richard Murray and Jason Holleron. The Mules hope to defend their 1st place victory in Regionals and go on to State.

Leading the girls team was Carey Carnahan. She placed 15th in the AHISD tournament in Austin. Also adding their talents were Lorraine Haley and Kristine Arcia. The girls hope to win district and advance on to Regionals.

Coach Bob Parker is pleased with his younger group of golfers. The Mules worked hard to try to capture the coveted state title.

Former State Champions, the Alamo Heights Soccer Team looked promising this year. The Mules had many returning players and set high goals for this season.

The team was led by Patrick Cooke as goalie, Mike Corbett, Eric Wood, Mark Bowland, and Cuatro Groos at midfield, and Chris Haden as sweeper. Also adding strength to the team were Travis Terrell, Paul Clifton, Robert Thomas, and Don Redmond.

Under the able leadership of Coach Bruce Fink, they anticipated many challenging and interesting opponents. Some of the teams encountered were Churchill, Madison, and New Braunfels.

While soccer is only in its fourth season at Alamo Heights, games were well attended and spirit was high. The Mules look forward to continued success in this fledgling sport.

Lack Of Experience Hurts Girls Soccer

Alamo Heights Girls Soccer Team opened their first season with the help of the school board, parents and dedicated coach Mary Spradley.

The victorious reputation of the Boys Soccer Team was difficult for the girls to compete with. Coach Spradley believes that with hard work and the strong leadership of half back Anne Flannery, this year has been a valuable learning experience and offers a promising next year. "Time and this years experience will build a stronger team" said coach Mary Spradley.

The Alamo Heights Junior School girls soccer team has been district champs for the past two years. The freshmen girls were experienced and helped the team. Freshmen Nena Scott and Sarah McPherson were two of the top players and were strong assets to the team.

One problem which hampers the team was working around schedules. The girls had separate practices. Half of the girls worked during first period and the other half of the team practiced after school. This conflicted with all the girls working together and made things very difficult. "If all the girls cannot practice together and be familiar with each others' techniques then it will be chaos on the field," said coach Mary Spradley.

Other strong assets to the team were forward Carey Carnahan, fullback Kimmy Amstutz, forward Jenny Crone. The goalies were senior Elizabeth Maebius, and junior Cathy Poinier.

Various schools played were Madison, St. Mary's Hall and Churchill. All the schools that the team played have had girls soccer for more than three years.

Coach Mary Spradley said, "The future looks bright because of the upcoming junior schoolers who are experienced and have played together on a winning team." After all of the girls' hard work and dedication this year, next season looks very promising for the Alamo Heights girls soccer team.

Love, Robin Rose, Cory Herrera, Janne Guera, and Ann Flannery.

Sluggers Aim For Playoffs

This year the Alamo Heights Mules will sport a different look. Though the team returns four starters, there will be quite a few new faces taking the field for the Mules.

Pitcher-3rd baseman Steve Castillo, shortstop Brady Hardy, pitcher-3rd baseman Tim Hughey, and center-fielder Jeff Pirluk all return to form the nucleus of the ball club. Joining the four returners in the starting line-up will be Senior 1st baseman Albert McNeel, 2nd baseman Brad Ewert, left fielder Jeremy Caffey, and Freshman utility man Chance Hale.

The aspect of this team that Coach Mark Hewitt likes the most is the great athletic ability of these players. "What they lack in skills they make up for with their sheer athletic ability," he commented.

The Mules hope to improve their mark a year ago by making the play-offs. It will be tough with district opponents like Uvalde, Pleasanton, Edgewood, and Southwest, but the Mules feel they can accomplish many of their goals, and the play-offs is definitely one of them.

"This year we have a good group of athletes who are constantly striving to do their best."

Young J.V. Work To Gain Experience

The J.V. baseball squad of 1988 is looking to win games but, more important, gain valuable experience. Made up of mostly Freshman ball players, this year's team hopes to accomplish a great deal.

Playing some very tough teams and several double-headers ought to give many of the kids good playing time that will enable the players to improve on their skills during a learning year.

Coach Charlie Boggess takes over the J.V. coaching duties and hopes to lead his team to an impressive record and prepare them for a future on the Varsity.

...whatever your sport.

Skiing. Tennis. Swimming. Cycling. Racquet. Team. Fitness...Whatever your sport, Good Sports is the place to shop for all ages. It's high fashion. It's state-of-the-art. The highest quality of clothing, shoes and equipment.

You name it, you can get it all right here.

And speaking of names, Good Sports is big on big names. Like Bogner, Ellesse. Patagonia. North Face...To mention a few. All the best. Only the best.

In one great big store.

One-stop shopping. That's why Good Sports is your best bet for the holidays.

Non-stop quality and selection are the reasons to keep coming back all year long.

The year 1987-1988 has offered us everything we could have asked from it. Our good times and bad times have been emotional, educational, and will be remembered forever. Unity and friendship has brought us to a stage above the rest.

This year gave us a terrific football, basketball, soccer, and tennis record. We experienced the excitement of Howdy Night, Homecoming, and the A.H. Olympics. We achieved goals that were last year simply dreams. We worked together and made the best of times out of what some might call the worst . . . school.

FROM THE EDITORS:

The party of Heightsfest has certainly been exciting. We have seen our students, athletes, scholars, and spirit leaders take us through an exhilarating year. Working on the Olmos has really made us appreciate the times that have passed before us in 87-88. The fun, sorrow, humor, anger, and boredom have all been captured to the best of our capability. The Olmos took on a new look with more pages, new sections, and more art. We have enjoyed working on it and must thank you for giving us the moments to preserve. The year has ended for everyone but the party will continue in '89.
